ELIZABETHTOWN COLLEGE
ELIZABETHTOWN, PENNA.

OUR roving reporter, Nancy Brubaker, roamed around campus until she found J. Blue-Jay III. For those of you who don't recognize the name, J. Blue Jay III, is the grandson of our school mascot, J. Blue-Jay. His portrait was seen hanging in the Jay's Nest, (his former nesting place). Once our roving reporter found "J.", as he likes to be called, she asked him to reminisce about the past year. What follows is an excerpt from that interview.

"In my grandfather's time, this college used to start at a decent, time, September. This August stuff is for the birds - well, actually - it's not for the birds, it's for the students, thank goodness!

"I certainly pitied those chicks whose nests were on the third floors of the non-air conditioned buildings. September was hot! Oh, and I'll never forget those nestlings, so newly hatched, trying to fit into college life, what'd they call it! Oh yes, Freshman Orientation. Leapfrog in the dell was the funniest sight ... the progressive hike, with all those roosters and mother hens cackling at the poor things ... but they got their revenge ... midnight raids through the dorms, getting everyone out of their roosts! And visitation hours went to 10:00 a.m., my grandfather probably turned over in his final nesting place!

The semester progressed ... with Trinell Sorenson crowned at Homecoming ... October Break ... the Halloween Dinner ... soccer (my namesakes did so well, they made it to the MAC's) ... Thanksgiving with that horrid custom of a bird for every table! ... Christmas was beautiful, no snow, but they got enough of that later ... the Christmas Dinner ... Santa ... the Yule Bowl (and the eggnog with Yoder's secret ingredient) ... door decorating ... caroling ... the winter concert ... and the B-2 Bash got everyone in the Christmas spirit. Then all the birds flew the coop for Christmas Break, which they needed, as their feather brains were plucked!

Spring semester brought the "Creeping Crud!" (or the flu) and an energy crisis ... classrooms at 65 degrees ... dorms at 55 ... and limited hot water hours ... what was worse was that the college almost decided to close down and go south for a month! The fledglings panicked, summer jobs would have been messed up! Rumors flew, "If we shut down for a month, we could still get out in early May if there was no spring or Easter vacations!" ... That brought a loud squawk from the students ... can you imagine going straight through school for a total of three months with no breaks? ... they would have all turned into cuckoos. Luckily President Carter and the oil companies performed a miracle, and the crisis was averted.

Campus life returned to normal. Friedly was up at all hours trying to stop strange objects from rolling into Ober, and the weekend ceremony of 50 students in a room "socializing" once more abounded ... the cafe began to notice that trays were missing ... Ah yes, the old spirit of fun had returned. Valentine's Day brought another delicious dinner ... February quickly came to a close, with Spring Break on it's heels ... A few birds flew south, in hopes of discovering their roots.

New pleasure awaited the students when they returned "home" ... A Dance Marathon, the disen ducks danced for charity a full 24 hours. Such dedication! Oh the fledglings were concerned about world issues, reminded me of the 80's. There was Soap Day, a CROP walk, a heifer dedication, and on a very personal level, Big Brother/Big Sister Day.

Monsoon Season began and time flew by . . . Songbirds sung in New England, wrestling birds went to the MAC's, the waterfowls swam, and the female tennis birds did terrifically. All the sports birds came out . . . frisbees, footballs, and softballs flew . . . An occasional bird went swimming in Lake Placid . . . spring was definitely here, I realized how much the weather had changed when I happened to get a glimpse of Wakiki Beach in the dell. All those birds needed was water, a beach, and a few palm trees. I was waiting for the land shark to appear and steal a few of those lovelies . . . Although, that's not funny. Our little Ivory Tower was invaded, and many women remember nights they walked in pairs, or grabbed the nearest rooster to escort them back to their nests.

The Junior-Senior Dinner Dance was marvelous, I love seeing everyone looking like peacocks! The TGIS Weekend was a huge success . . . everyone who started out on the road rally managed to find their way back to campus . . . excess baggage was sold at the yard sale . . . a bluegrass group played in the Brinser courtyard . . . and Jack Flash was amazing.

The year certainly flew by . . . although I'm sure many of the fledglings wanted a few more hours during finals week. The dormitories were never dark. The poor nestlings were in a state of shock, so much work and no time! A semester's worth of knowledge was condensed into one all nighter (or five). Nestlings were cracking under the pressure of being forced to study during Friday and Saturday nights! But time was running out, and although coffee prices were high, enough coffee was consumed on campus to pay the wages of all the coffee workers in Brazil! Zombies roamed around campus, waking up enough to throw a frisbee, or to partake of some liquid refreshment after a hard weeks work.

No bird on campus could tell you what day or time it was . . . until May 4th. The young nestlings returned home to their parent's nests, and the fledglings were preparing to test out their new flying feathers in 4 days. I don't know how they did it, but a year's worth of socializing was condensed into those four days.

Along with a lifetime of worrying, many fledglings had no where to fly after May 8th. The realities of a bleak future, with no nest of their own, or a nest with no worms on the table, began to sink in. Many realized the true test of their wings would not come on May 8th, but many months later. Still, they went through with graduation. They'll fly back onto campus as alumni, but regardless of the status of the young birds, all have fond memories . . . Pizza Town at 12:30 . . . the machine take-over of the Jay's nest . . . talks with a good friend at odd hours . . . the meeting of a nest-mate . . . and the flock they associated with won't be forgotten . . . too many met friends that will last many migrations, storms, and the greying (and losing) of feathers. The Blue Jays that graduated will never forget their home for four years. And the other nestlings . . . they'll be back ready for action in the fall of '77. After all, one flock flies the coop, and another is ready to take their place. There will be no end to the long line of Blue Jays . . .

SPORTS

How do you spell relief? ROLA!

Once again the Blue Jay Soccer Team proved its strength by winning the MAC sectional title and placing 3rd in the NCAA Tournament. The J.V. squad also had that winning spirit with its 7-1 record. Seniors contributing to the successful season were John Asher, Bill Ensslen, Ken MacMillan, Ron Miller, Don Meszaros, Don Napp, Tim Shrom, Tom Texter and Jeff Ulbrich.

WOMEN'S FIELD HOCKEY

J.V. goalie faces high drive.

Goal!!

Although difficult to equal the team's 75-76 record of winning both the Penn Mar Conference and MAC Tournament, the women's field hockey team is consistently good - this year placing 3rd in the MAC's. Seniors sharing in the team's winning ways are Karen Shallenberger, Lisa Miller, Holly Pratt and Sandy Johnson.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The men's basketball team enjoyed another winning season in '77 and also was awarded the Schoenfeld Award for good sportsmanship. Although this has been the last season for outstanding seniors Chris Drayton and John Springer, the team has a promising future including 9 freshmen who were on this year's squad.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Arla Graybill drives to the basket.

Sue Bitts shoots for two.

Karen, Sue, Deb and Vicki form tight defense.

The 1977 Jaygal basketball team overcame an early season losing streak to win eight of their last twelve games and to place fifth in the MAC's. Seniors who have played their last for E-town are Arla Graybill, Deb Bruno, Amy Scott and Vicki Thomas.

Lynn Hambricht breaks free.

WRESTLING

MAC Champion Gary Heim

National Champion Eric Mast

An outstanding year for Elizabethtown wrestling, the team not only placed second in the MAC's, but also entered more wrestlers than ever before in the NCAA Div. III tourney to rank ninth in the nation. Seniors on the team include Jerry Brown, Don Zimmerman, and All-Americans Eric Mast and Gary Heim.

SWIMMING

The dedicated swim teams showed their determination by swimming through the record breaking cold winter of '77. Team seniors are Jeanette Cassidy, Kathy Kish, Holly Pratt and Peter Orth.

1st row: John Clemens, Peter Orth, Dave Havener; 2nd row: Barry Llewellyn, Rick Whitman, Scott Baker, Rick Milner. coach: John Tulley.

CROSS COUNTRY

The cross country team, coached by Kenneth Ober and Lee Evinger, was a young team but improved over last year's record. Team members include senior Mike Bressi, John Anderson, Jude Bervinchak, Mike Chester, Bill DiGeorge, Steve Lacombe, Wade Pratt and Tim Moyer.

In its third year here at Elizabethtown, the track team finished 6-8 and placed eighth in a field of twenty at the MAC's. The team will lose four experienced seniors - John Lusik (shot, discus), Dennis Hosler (hurdles), Pete Macholdt (distance runner), and Ken MacMillan (pole vault). However with many talented underclassmen returning next year, the team has a great future!

Dennis Hosler	John Pappas	Don Tyrrie
Bill Hunziker	Brad Poore	Jim Yeingst
Willie Jones	Wade Pratt	Coach Lee Evinger

The golf team achieved its fourth winning season in a row, this year finishing 6-4. Coach John Tulley will lose six seniors - Bob Butterfoss, Tom Forbes, Denis Gaughan, Matt Olcott, Jim Royer and Dave Smith. Returning members are Stephen Mike Fink, Rick Lawver, Ed Madenford, Ed Murray, Philip Rudy, Jay Sheehy and Jeff Stambaugh.

BASEBALL

It was a difficult season for the young Blue Jay baseball squad. The team lost seven key players to graduation or signing, including four pitchers, leaving only two seniors – infielder Rick Dissinger and third basemen Glenn Fogel. But with the majority of the players returning next year, the team has the potential for a great future.

MEN'S AND WOMEN'S

TENNIS

Both the men's and women's tennis teams had excellent seasons in 1977. The men's team finished 10-1 and captured the MAC northwest sectional title. The women's team, undefeated for the fourth time in five years, finished 10-0 to become Penn Mar conference champions. Talented seniors were Donna Bowersox, Trinell Sorensen, Karen Wilkins and Mark Angle.

Casey (Bowers) at the bat

A first for Elizabethtown College is the women's softball team, led by Coach Peath. Although the team is technically a "club", it played intercollegiatly and was so well supported that it should become an official team soon. Team members include Laura Anthony, Beth Bowers, Pat Crossland, Donna DiMatteo, Sonye Gish, Arla Graybill, Rob King, Margie Kolmus, Cindy Shanks and Kathy Tyszka.

Another first for E-town is the women's lacrosse team, also labeled a club, but hopefully not for long. It's great to see Jaygal athletes coming to the foreground!

DANCE-A-THON

Keep on dancing – only 12 hours to go!

Keep on caring –

The dance-a-thon committee: Mark Snavely, Donna Fitzpatrick, Linda Galella, Miriam Oakum (chairperson), Dave Witkovsky, Nancy Brubaker; also Cheryl Bartells.

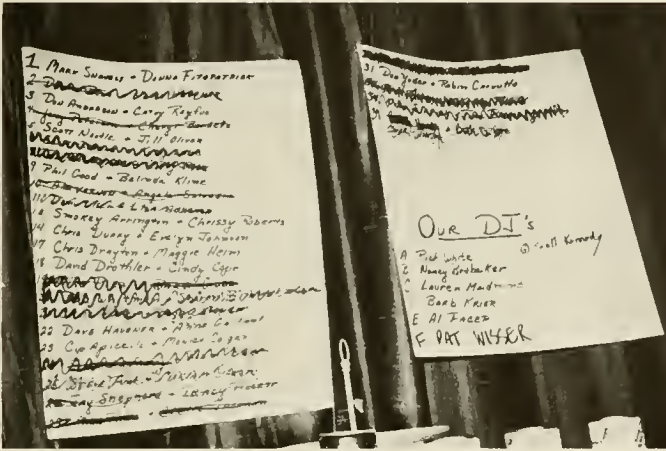

The panel that kept everyone informed and on their toes.

Well, almost everyone!

"The stars of the show", wrote chairperson Miriam Oakum, "were our long lasting 11 couples ... But they were supported by a cast of 30 who were with them for a time, not physically but always in spirit."

To benefit the Pennsylvania Association of Retarded Citizens.

SENIORS

JOANN ALLEWALT

Psychology

JoAnn Allewalt is the daughter of a "self-employed attorney" (a University of Baltimore graduate); she graduated from Franklin Senior High in her hometown of Upperco, Md. JoAnn did her summer internship as a "mental-health and mental-retardation caseworker involved in the deinstitutionalization of clients." Outside of her classes she was in girls varsity track her sophomore year (she sprinted, and ran the 100-yard and 220-yard races); she also took piano lessons for eight years, and was trained in guitar at Peabody Conservatory.

DENNIS WILLIAM ADAIR

Accounting

A September, 1975, transfer from Penn State, Berks campus, Dennis Adair took a definite liking to the college's environment. "The quality of the professors is higher here . . . I feel my two years here will be of great benefit to me in the future." A recipient of an E-town scholarship and a Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants award, Dennis made Dean's List and graduated summa cum laude. During his college years, he did some short-order cooking at Zinn's Diner and "laboring" at Pottstown Newerete of New Holland. Dennis was married in August to Bonnie Dietrich.

DEBORAH ANN ADESSO

Psychology

"I'll always remember Elizabethtown as a place where I grew up academically and socially, a place where I received a personal education from professors who cared about the students." Deborah, of Neptune, N.J., besides being active as Student Senator from her department, worked a stint for WWEC as a record spinner. Deborah intends to take a year off for work before assuming graduate work for a Master's in clinical psychology. "I plan on being a therapist, working with the emotionally disturbed." (A note for you Budweiser drinkers: one of Debbie's favorite hobbies is T-shirt collecting.)

JOHN FREDERICK ANDREN

Biology

Born and raised in Harrisburg, John completed his studies in three years at Elizabethtown, thanks to taking the CLEP tests. John was an assistant in the general biology lab for two years; during that time he was the R.A. of Brinser's first floor. "People I remember as a freshman have changed so much. Growing into an adult is the most important thing to learn from college." John's future plans include study to become an optometrist or ophthalmologist.

MARK RODNEY ANGLE

Business Administration

Mark Angle - brother of Doug, '75 - has an eye for automobiles and tennis. His Chambersburg-born father runs a Cadillac-Pontiac-Buick dealership. Mark, who worked the past few summers there in the service departments, intends to work full time as a salesman now that college is out of the way. As for tennis, Mark was a letterman his sophomore and junior years, co-captained the team his senior year. Actually, his interests run into all sports; he helped win intramural championships in soccer and volleyball for his Brinser Three-North teams. "I will always remember these people, these names from good old E-town - Kinder and Weed, Toe, Bake, Egg McMurray, the Stauffers, J.D. and the rest of you hounds!"

ANA ANTOLIN

History

SHARON LEE ARGO

Social Work (Dec. '76)

Though Sharon Argo is a Cherry Hill High (East) graduate, she is a native of the Deep South, raised in Birmingham, Alabama, where her father works for Union Carbide ("Despite the stereotypes, it is the most beautiful place we have ever lived."). Sharon served as a student intern at Elizabethtown's Hospital for Children and Youth and the Pennhurst School. But she will best be remembered as the full-time student manager of the dining hall, where she pushed and shoved her way for two-and-a-half years. Her interests include lacrosse, rug hooking, and modern dancing (she was in the chorus line of E-town's production of Cole Porter's Anything Goes). She is presently on the way to earning her M.S.W.

JOHN LOUIS ASHER III

*Business Administration
(Accounting and Marketing)*

Says John Asher of Flourtown, "E-town provides a fine social and educational atmosphere; I feel that everyone can find their own special place within it." The son of the owner of a "few confectionary businesses," John played for four years on the varsity soccer squad as a midfielder. His club memberships ranged from SAM and the Accounting and Marketing Clubs to the Geology Club (vice-president and treasurer) and Barry Friedly's Student Activities Committee; he also was elected to the Campus Judicial Board.

DEBBIE LEIGH AUMAN

Biology - Chemistry/Medical Technology (Dec. '76)

This double major from Reading, graduate of Mt. Penn High and the daughter of a research chemist, earned an E-town scholarship and a National Merit Scholarship before coming to E-town. Among her academic distinctions are membership in the Alpha Lambda Delta honor society and summa cum laude standing. Debbie also did some sporting, having played halfback on the varsity field hockey team her freshman and sophomore years. Currently she is at Reading Hospital, doing her clinical year in Medical Technology.

EILEEN MARIE ARNOLD

Biology

"I've basically enjoyed life here at E-town," says Arnie. "In the most part I've found the administration and faculty helpful, interested, and concerned in student welfare. Raised in Lebanon, Arnie earned an E-town scholarship and made the Dean's List on three separate occasions. She has a great interest in sports; her last two years have seen her in action on the Women's Basketball and Men's Golf teams. Her senior year she served as a Senator from Founder's Residence and a member of the Academic Council. "I guess I could say I liked it here, and I'm going to miss it - the people I've met here and the school as such." Look for Arnie at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, where she'll graduate in 1981.

JUDITH KATHRYN AXFORD

Occupational Therapy

"I've met many friends at E-town whom I'll miss very much . . . but I'll never forget them." Judy, a resident of Haddonfield (where her parents are "active in community organizations"), received a scholarship from the American Occupational Therapy Foundation in 1975. She was a member of Sigma Lambda Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta and the Myer Dorm Council; for two years, she was Resident Assistant on Myer Third-East. Among Judy's outside work was a field-work affiliation at Temple University Hospital in 1976.

JERRY DARVIN BARLET

Business Administration (Aug. '77)

Born and raised in Palmyra — his father, a Penn State graduate, and manager of central purchasing at Armstrong, and his mother's a housewife — Jerry Barlet transferred from Millersville State College at the end of his sophomore year. Says Jerry: "The profs are more understanding and more friendly here; the courses at E-town are also superior." At MSC he played guard and forward on the basketball team, and among his "more memorable experiences" are that he "broke the overhanging scoreboard with a last-minute desperation shot." At E-town he belonged to the Marketing Club. One more thing: he is the brother of '77 graduate Terry Barlet.

TERRY ARVIN BARLET

Business Administration (Aug. '77)

It might do simply to repeat Jerry Barlet's biography in the case of brother Terry, the two are so alike. Terry was born and raised in Palmyra of the same parents as Jerry. He transferred from Millersville in the fall of 1975 ("Elizabethtown is much more friendly; its class size is considerably smaller, and professors are interested in the student on an individual level"). Terry played intercollegiate basketball at MSC — as both guard and forward — and was a member of E-town's Marketing Club. Among Terry's favorite hobbies is the "collecting of unusual and meaningful phrases and quotes; i.e., "Concerning my graduation: No man sought it less or deserved it more!"

CRAIG ALAN BEAMSDERFER

Accounting (Aug. '77)

Craig Beamsderfer, A Swartzvillian, transferred from Penn State at the end of his freshman Year to get away from the bigness of that university. Upon admission here, he received an E-town scholarship. Craig has been active in his department — first, as a member of SAM and the Accounting Club; second, as a tutor in accounting. He was named last November as a member of Abraxas. "I had a great three years here, but I'm looking forward toward the future. I'm ready for any challenge that comes my way." Craig is hopeful of landing a job — and a home — in the New England area in the immediate future.

DEBORAH BECK

Accounting

MICHAEL BENNETT

KIM BLECKER

Psychology

ROBIN JOY BOLTON

Social Science - Psychology

Even after having undergone the rigors of an E-town education, Myer Three-East R.A. Robin Bolton says simply, "I'm going to miss this place." Born in Jersey City and raised in Bricktown (where her father is a swimming-pool contractor), Robin skipped her senior year at Bricktown Township High to enroll here, and, by taking summer courses, she was able to earn her degree in three years. During those three years she was (at various times) a Psychology Club member, a Student Senator, a member of the Fiddler chorus, and (throughout) manager of the fledgling track team. Her major-related outside work included counseling at Planned Parenthood of Lancaster. (Figure this out: Robin's favorite hobbies are "Sparking and Bluping.")

GWENDA BOOSE

Math - Business Administration (Dec. '76)

Her parents - a miniater and a high-school teacher - are originally from Lancaster County, but the former Wendi Boose was born in Woodbury, Bradford County. The cousin of Selisa Stauffer ('79), Wendi received a $1000/year E-town scholarship, made the Dean's List and got out of here cum laude. Among her extra-curricular activities were tutoring in "math, econ, physics and business courses" and work on the planning and steering committees for the college's Festival of Faith. Wendi became Mrs. Robert Butterfoss on May the 14th. "I'm looking forward to trying out my education wings in the world of business. I only hope four years bring me a fulfilling career!"

JANICE BOLLINGER

Social Work (Dec. '76)

Janice Bollinger, Hanover-born is yet another early graduate of this college, as is indicated above. Janice did her junior field placement at Central Montgomery County Mental Health/Mental Retardation Base Service Unit, and her senior field placement at Hershey Medical Center's social services department. Among this senior's favorite hobbies are horseback riding, tennis, and skiing.

KEVIN RAYMOND BOUMAN

Biology

Kevin Bouman was a commuting student, originally from Lancaster. His mother, born in North Towanda, New York, is a secretary. Kevin is a graduate of Conestoga Valley High School.

ROBERT MARTIN BOWERMAN

Business Administration (Dec. '76)

A native of Indiana, Bob transferred from Purdue University in the fall of 1973. Two years later he married the former Sue Fauver; since that time, they have both worked through school. Bob, who made Dean's List and worked in the Marketing Club, has done everything from cutting firewood to being a doorman to earn a few dollars. Though it hasn't been easy, he feels it's been worthwhile and has helped him budget his time. His hobbies include organic gardening, reading, hiking, and canoeing. He plans to get into the "agribusiness" industry, travel abroad and work overseas.

SUSAN ANN BOWERMAN

Sociology (Dec. '76)

Originally from New Jersey, Sue married Robert Bowerman, also an E-town student, in May, 1975; they now reside in Hummelstown. Sue, who is hoping to go on to graduate school, was a member of Alpha Kappa Delta, placed on the Dean's List and earned an E-town Acac Scholarship. Her future plans include living on a small farm in the country and being able to spend more time with her husband. She enjoys sewing, needlework, hiking and travel.

DONNA MARIE BOWERSOX

Occupational Therapy (Aug. '77)

Donna Bowersox is a Columbian - Pennsylvania, that is - and a graduate of the high school there. Among Donna's club affiliations were Geology (of which she was treasurer), Hiking and History. She also played a number of intercollegiate sports; these were junior-varsity field hockey, tennis (for two years) and swimming (for four); two of these years saw her as co-captain of the team.

GLEN DAVID BOWMAN

Psychology

Though Glen Bowman comes from a long ways off - Winchester, Virginia (his father's a pastor in Westminster, Md. and his mother teaches grade school in Boletouret County), he already had some ties to this college through three relatives: The Snavelys and Joe Whitmore. His brother Carl and his sister Anne also attend E-town. The recipient of a scholarship from the college, Glen has attained cum laude standing or higher every semester he's been here; this helped him earn membership in Abraxas. Glen was class treasurer two years, and in the Concert Choir all but his junior year when he was a student in Ghana, Africa, and belonged to the Psychology Club. He is associated with campus theatre through his piano accompaniment for the production of Forum.

LOUISE AUDREY BOWMAN

Occupational Therapy

This Oak Ridge (N.J.) graduate has her interests equally divided between her major and music. Louise served her clerkship at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lancaster, the York Child Development Center, the Reading Institute of Rehabilitation and the Kurtz Training and Rehabilitation Center in Bethlehem; she had a summer affiliation at the Morris Hall Health and Rehabilitation Center in Lawrenceville, N.J. Louise plays five instruments ("the organ, flute, piccolo, piano and bass drum"), and was active in high-school band and choir groups. Here at E-town, she played three semesters for our Concert Band, was a Student Senator and the first president of the Activities Programming Board.

CAROLYN BRAKE

Elementary Education (Dec. '76)

LINDA CAROL BOYCE

Math - Secondary Education (May '78)

This Ocean City senior had herself listed in this year book because - if you're not a senior - you might not see much of her next year; she does her student teaching then. A resident of Founders C-ving, Linda attained her first collegiate academic success by attending a secondary-school honors program during high school at George Washington University; she earned an academic scholarship, made the Dean's List at Elizabethtown. She was a Student Senator and, as such, served on the Freshman Orientation staff last summer; she acted on the make-up crews for A Midsummer Night's Dream and Fiddler, assisted with math and physics, tutored in the Counseling Center. intention is to teach; later she hopes to continue into the field of computer science.

WENDY LYNN BREITEGAM

Communication Arts

A graduate of Mt. Penn High School, Wendy came to E-town because of its small size. She majored in "undeclared" until the end of her sophomore year, when she chose Comm. Arts as her major. A member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Wendy was active in the 1976 and 1977 Synchro Swim Shows, and worked on the props committee for several Campus Theatre productions. Her junior and senior years, she served as R.A. on Myer Two-East. As for her future plans, she will enter the field of personnel relations in broadcasting.

INDA M. BRENNEMAN

Biology - Medical Technology

Up on the second floor of Royer, where this Lancaster senior lived for three years, the girls called her "Professor." Well, let us run a little background on Professor Brenneman. Born of Altoona parents, Inda received an E-town academic scholarship. She took advantage of it not only by double-majoring, but by involving herself in a number of outside activities as well, including Synchro Club, the Aero Club, and, most importantly, Student Senate; she was most recently secretary to the Community Congress' Campus Life Council. She, too, was a manager of the newfound track team.

DEBORAH C. BRUNO

Chemistry - Medical Technology (Aug. '77)

Debbie Bruno says that she'll miss E-town; that her four years here will rank among the best in her life. "Looking forward to basketball season every year was probably the clue to enjoying it here." And why not? She played "mostly guard," some substitute forward on the women's varsity basketball squad, scored second highest total points per season in the college's history her sophomore year; her twenty-nine points in a game ranks among the top five in that category. "Being involved in student government helped" as a Student Senator she served on the Personnel Council when it assisted in the search for a new college president. And she "enjoyed the majority of the courses" she had; Debbie is an Alpha Lambda Delta inductee and a three-time mention on the Dean's List. "The future? Well, who's to say what it will hold . . . being the strong willed person that I am, I'm sure everything will work out. The valleys will be there, but the mountains will seem even better when we taste the bitterness and despair in the valleys."

CAROL ANN BRUNNER

Elementary Education - Early Childhood Education

Though this Berwyn senior - a Conestoga High graduate - is an education major, her interests lie primarily in the music field, as is indicated by the number of musical organizations she was involved in here: the Concert Band, The Woodwind Ensemble, and the Clarinet Quartet; she also played in the All-State Intercollegiate Band. Outside of these pursuits, Carol, a Dean's List student, was a member of the PSEA and vice-president of Campus Gold, a recently founded club whose purpose is to seek campus support for the work of the Girl Scouts of America.

"It's strange to be leaving a place that has become home," says this energetic senior. From New Canaan, Connecticut, Nancy is the daughter of the President of IBM World Asian Trade; her mother she describes simply as "Super Mom," and her brother, Scott was a "dumb frosh" just this year. Nancy was a DJ on WWEC, was secretary to Sock and Buskin as a sophomore, vice-president of Alpha Psi Omega her senior year and additionally program chairperson of Sigma Lambda Sigma. Her background in campus theatre is extensive - as chairperson in make-up, lights and props for three productions, and performing in yet another three shows: A Midsummer Night's Dream (as Hermia), Fiddler on the Roof (as Grandma Tzeitel) and Plaza Suite. Nancy has also done some work up in Jerry Greiner's office, participating in three convocations, and working on the committee for last year's Festival of Faith. These last two years she was an R.A. in Royer 3-North. Quotes she from Saint Exupery: "It is only with the heart one can see rightly, what is essential is invisible to the eye."

ROBERT PAUL BUTTERFOSS

Business Administration

DAVID CALLIS

Business Administration

Bob Butterfoss says he is "looking forward to graduating, to getting out into the world and to take on the responsibilities of life." Bob, a Flemington local, played fourth or fifth position on the golf team during three of his years here, and also was in the Marketing Club. He helped to sort out photographs and lay out the pages of this edition of The Conestogan. Bob lists his favorite pastimes as ceramics and glass cutting. On May 14th, Bob was married to another member of the class of '77, Wendi Boese.

STEVEN DONALD CASSEL

Math

If Steve Cassel looks forward to one thing following his graduation, it is this: "It will be nice to be able to earn some money and not have it immediately relinquished to the pockets of E-town College." Steve is a native of York; his father is a high-school guidance counselor and his mother is a registered nurse. Steve graduated from York Suburban High. One of his favorite hobbies is "playing the pinnes" - pinball, that is.

DIANE CARINI

Chemistry - Medical Technology

JEANETTE ELLEN CASSIDY

Occupational Therapy

Jeanette was raised in Cherry Hill, N.J., and came to E-town in 1973. As a freshman she was inducted into Alpha Lambda Delta. During her four years here, she was extensively involved in the swim organizations - she co-captained the swim team her junior and senior years, and was publicity chairman of the Synchro Club her senior year. One of Jeanette's special interests has been working with retarded citizens in teaching them to swim through the Lancaster Association of Retarded Citizens. Jeanette hopes to get a job which will allow for OT involvement on the community level.

WILLIAM ALAN CHECK

Pre-engineering

Bill Check, though listed with the four-year seniors in this section, hasn't finished his E-town education yet; as a pre-engineering major, he will go on to Penn State University under a "Three-two" program and pick up degrees both from that institution and from Elizabethtown. The son of two teachers in the Mifflin County School District (he graduated from Chief Logan High School), Bill was involved quite a bit in the Comm. Arts program here. He was chief engineer of WWEC, a member of Repertory Theatre, Alpha Psi Omega, and the vice-president of Sock and Buskin. Bill played Mr. Sycamore in You Can't Take It With You, and directed lighting for Fiddler on the Roof. He also sung in the Concert Choir and Chorale.

LARRY LEE CHIDESTER

Business Administration
(Dec. '76)

"E-town," says Larry Chidester, "was good for me. It was a period of growth for me both academically and personally . . ." As for the college, "(It) has a great business department, and I hope it will continue to be such; the college will improve, (but it) seems to be letting things run down and is getting quite impersonal." A Lancaster native and McCaskey graduate, Larry concentrated in Economics and Marketing within his major, and was a member of SAM and the Marketing Club.

PAMELA AGNES CHILLEMI

Social Work

As the last name indicates, this girl's an Italian, through and through. "My father was born and raised in Sicily, came to this country at age 29 and worked as a manual laborer until his retirement four years ago." And her mother? She's second generation and her occupation is just being a "good Italian mama." Though Pam's major was social work - she interned at the Masonic Homes and had field experience at Pennhurst - she thoroughly immersed herself in the Comm. Arts program, serving as alumni secretary for Alpha Psi Omega, playing bit parts in a number of college productions early in her "career" here, and chairing the make-up committees of five more recent shows. She will marry John R. Presto soon after this yearbook's published. "E-town has been the best experience of my life . . . but it is time to move on.

NEAL RAY CLOSE

Sociology

This Mechanicsburg senior is a graduate of Cedar Cliff High; his Texasborn father was a WWII Veteran, and his mother was an accounting major in college. For Neal, involvement in the theatre served as "bookends" to his college career; he was Moonface Martin in Anything Goes and Nick Bottom in A Midsummer Night's Dream. Neal also appeared as Antonio in The Merchant of Venice during his senior year. He was a member of the Repertory Theatre Crew during his early years here, and sang in the Concert Choir. Neal, who was associated with Jerry Greiner's office and the I.V.C.F., is contemplating attending seminary following graduation.

PATRICIA JEAN COLLINS

Business Administration

"I can't believe the end is in sight!" says this Green Gables senior. The daughter of a registered nurse, Pat, who was Resident Assistant in Green Gables her senior year, also worked a year filing and sorting the mail, down in the post office. She was actively involved in SAM and the Marketing Club. Pat says that she has no plans for the future; "whatever comes along" is the order for the day.

ROBERT CONNELL, JR.

Biology

"I want to thank my parents for their support, my professors for their interest in my studies, and my friends for making it all enjoyable." So read these last words of Bob Connell as he embarks on the world-at-large. A Mt. Laurel native, and the brother of a 1974 E-town graduate Jeanie Connell, Bob was, for four years, a member of the Scuba Club and a participant in the record-amashing underwater chess marathon. He also did some assisting in the labs of general and quantitative chemistry.

LAURA MARY CONROY

Social Work

Laura Conroy calls St. James, Long Island, her home. Her father was raised in the Bronx and her mother in Brooklyn. Laura worked throughout her college years; first, in the Safety department her freshman and sophomore years; then, in the library her junior year. Laura's field placements were at Charlea Ellis School for Girls (as a social work aide) and the Lebanon County Board of Assistance (as a caseworker). A member of the Social Work Club and a participant in Big Brother-Big Sister Day, Laura's Royer Third-South team won the intramural volleyball championship in 1976.

DIANA MAY COVERLEY-SMITH

Occupational Therapy (Dec. '76)

Diana Coverley-Smith - the only student in Elizabethtown College with a hyphenated last name - openly admits her gratitude for having "started and graduated with (a) new and exciting program" - occupation therapy. Born in Abington and graduated from the high school there, Diana had a chorus part in the Campus Theatre production of The Skin of Our Teeth; additionally, she was secretary to the OT Club and a cheerleader. She was also on E-town's part-time payroll as a library aide and a cafeteria employee.

LINDA KAY CRAWFORD

Elementary Education

Linda Crawford is unique among Elizabethtown students for one reason; she's devoting her life to religion through education. Born in Atlanta and raised in Toledo, Linda transferred from Mount Vernon Bible College (N.Y.) in 1973 (she appreciates the services rendered her by the registrar's office and financial aid in helping her make the move here). An ordained minister, Linda served a year in Jamaica - as missionary, a teacher at Jamaica Life Bible College, and "principal of a school with 106 kids." During her time at E-town, she supplemented her income by working in the post office. Currently, Linda is teaching kindergarten-through-second grade at Muir Christian Academy (Tower City, Pa.).

LISA CURRAN

Chemistry - Medical Technology

CHARLES CHRISTOPHER CUSTER

Music Education

Say Chip Custer, "I've really enjoyed my four years here at the college, but I'm very anxious to leave." Chip, out of Harrisburg - his father is the chief metallurgist for Bethlehem Steel's Steelton plant - received an academic scholarship during "Junior Days", made the Dean's List on five occasions (this as of September, 1976) and graduated cum laude. He was in most of the college's musical groups, including Concert Band, Concert Choir, Chorale, and Jazz Band. He also performed in the Harrisburg Concert Band, the Bavarian Five German Band, and "other professional musical organizations." Chip also taught music theory and woodwinds here for a time.

CRAIG ALLAN DAVIS

Chemistry - Medical Technology

"I have no regrets on having attended E-town ... I feel E-town offers a very thorough, rounded education for the person who likes the country more than the large-city college or university." Craig trumpeted for the Concert, Jazz and Pep Bands; he also did some solo work at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Wormleysburg, his home town. Craig worked weekends doing venipuncture (the puncture of veins for intravenous injections) and lab training at Holy Spirit Hospital (Camp Hill). "It helped prepare me in my major and for my future occupation." He's also certified by the state in first aid and emergency care, and is employed by his hometown's fire department as an emergency medical trainer.

MICHALINA CZELEN

Elementary Education

KAREN ELAINE DEARSTYNE

Medical Secretary

Yet another amongst the two-year graduates, Karen Dearstyne was born in Coatesville. Her father, born in New York State, is chief of the chaplain service at the Coatesville V.A. Hospital, and a clergyman in the United Methodist Church; her mother, also from the Empire State, is a housewife. Karen is "artsy-craftsy" in her choice of hobbies, which include sewing. She also does a little hiking.

KATHLEEN MARIE DEMBROSKI

Business Administration

Kathy Dembroski is a native of Frackville, and graduated from the North Schuylkill School District there. The recipient of an E-town scholarship, Kathy was active in a number of college clubs - Outdoor, SAM, Marketing - and played some intramurals: coed and women's volleyball, women's soccer, and softball. Although she didn't participate in any college musical groups, she did play flute in her high-school band and a "small orchestra at home." Among Kathy's favorite activities are participating in water sports and travelling - hiking, camping and skiing.

RICHARD DIAMOND

Economics

RICK LAMAR DISSINGER

Business Administration

Says Rick Dissinger, "I'm extremely glad I selected a small college where the atmosphere was more personal. I have had very few negative experiences." Rick, born in Denver and graduated from Cocalico High School, played the infield on the baseball team for four years, and captained the team his senior year. He also was, as is practically obligatory for business majors, a member of SAM.

CAROL DIETRICH

Chemistry - Medical Technology

JOHN JOSEPH DOTSEY

Business Administration

Born in Harrisburg and graduated from Central Dauphin High, John Dotsey received an E-town scholarship and made the Dean's List. John, whose club memberships included Marketing, played on intramurals teams and was a resident of Founders A-1. He'll be best remembered as a friend to George, Scott, Pfeff and the rest of "those guys."

CHRISTOPHER HENRY
DRAYTON

Social Dynamics

Chris Drayton's major achievement at Elizabethtown College was in the sport of basketball. Born and raised in Harrisburg, Chris played four years on the varsity squad in the guard position (though playing guard and forward is not new to him). He was awarded the Most Valuable Player Award at the 1976 Spoungle Tournament and also received a team honor the year of that tournament as the best rebounder.

MYLA LOUISE EASTER

Communication Arts/Sociology

A native of Hyannis, Mass., Myla has traveled far at E-town. She received the alumni/student award as the "outstanding senior woman" of 1977. Her major interest is in the theatre; she appeared in "life with Father" with Betsy Palmer at the Cape Cod Melody Tent. Her college roles ranged from Sarah in J.B., to Portia in The Merchant of Venice and several roles in the repertory theatre company. Myla also was the assistant director of Fiddler on the Roof. She likes music; a member of the Concert Band for four years, Myla capped her senior year by singing soprano for concert choir. Her academic merits include membership in Sigma Lambda Sigma, Alpha Psi Omega, and being the President of Alpha Kappa Delta. Myla was named a student admissions associate and also worked extensively with the summer and full orientation programs. On top of all this, she was chosen editor of this book, The Conestogan. Myla has a few people to thank for her enjoyable times spent at E-town: Donna Muaser, Neal Close, Jack Sederholm, and Brent Uppercue, to whom she became engaged at Thanksgiving, 1976.

JEFFREY HAROLD EBERSOLE

Mathematics

His father, a Hershey dentist, holds the distinction of being an Elizabethtown graduate (Harold Ebersole, '50). As for Jeff, he has the distinction of being on Dean's List four straight semesters (one of those semesters was a 4.0) and had an overall average high enough to earn his cum laude standing. Jeff was familiar to some students as a math-class tutor for a year. Says Jeff: "I'm really happy about my decision to come to E-town. You really do get to know a few of the professors personally. I also made many friends, most of whom I hope will still be friends many years from now."

WILLIAM ENSSLEN

Religion/Philosophy

MARSHA ANN ESPENSHADE

Social Work

For Marsha Espenshade, like so many other transfers from two year schools, this will be the second time through graduation. Marsha came from Harcum Junior College in Bryn Mawr. "Both Harcum and E-town are totally different," she says. "Harcum was an all-girls school, for one thing. E-town is much bigger. I've probably had the best time here, although it is a much harder school." Marsha was secretary to the Founders Dorm Council and the Social Work Club; she has also served as chairman to the Central Region of the Pennsylvania Association of Undergraduates Social-Work Students. Marsha is hoping to get a job in either prison work or probation and parole with her degree.

KAREN LEE EVANS

Biology

Karen Evans is, both by birth and lineage, a South Carolinian; her hometown is Columbia, and her parents - an Army Colonel and a housewife - are also from that state. Most of Karen's occupational experience has been at military installations; she worked as an account maintenance clerk at Ft. Lee, Virginia, and as a secretary for a summer at Pusan Depot, Korea. Karen's plans are to attend a graduate school in dentistry following graduation and the summer hiatus.

JO ANN FERGUSON

Psychology (Aug. '77)

Raised in the town of Schellensburg, Jo Ann a Chestnut Ridge graduate could be seen quite a bit around Founders, where she was not only a resident but an R.A. for two years. Jo Ann was a member of the Psychology Club, and was active in last year's freshman orientation program. She sang for the Choral Union (she is an active participant in church choirs and groups in her community where she occasionally solos). Jo Ann, who did an internship with Planned Parenthood in Lancaster, and ran around campus last summer as a conference assistant, has plans of attending graduate school following her August commencement.

ADRIENNE FESSLER

Social Work

"My philosophy of life is summed up by what Stephen Grellet said: 'I shall pass through this world but once; any good thing, therefore, I can do, or any kindness I can show to any human being - let me do it now.'" The daughter of a Trenton surgeon and sister of an E-town graduate (Jodi Fessler, '74), Adrienne worked at Pennhurst School and Women in Crisis (a service for abused women and children). Among this cum laude student's hobbies are oil painting, embroidery, and the making of sand terrariums. Her ambitions for the immediate future? "I hope to find a job in my major, for I like dealing with people ... what I want out of life is to be content with whatever I have."

JOYCE FIELDS

Elementary Education

BRADLEY SCOTT FISCHER

Political Science

"The more you know, the more you don't know." Brad Fischer was raised in Lancaster, graduated from McCaskey High. Among his "involvements" at the college were an internship in political science (during the fall of 1976) as assistant campaign manager to Dan Neidermyer, candidate for the state legislature; he also wrote editorials for the Etownian. Outside of these confines he is a church councilman for Lancaster's Redeemer Lutheran Church, and "acts and directs" for an outfit called Marantha Productions, Inc.

THOMAS FLEMING

Social Science - History

GLENN DEITH FOGEL

Education (Social Science) (Aug. '77)

Glenn Fogel, of Brineer 2-South, was born in Beaver Springs, and graduated from the school his father teaches at - West Snyder High. His forte outside of the classroom could be seen on the soccer field or the baseball diamond; he played two years as a varsity booter and four years on the baseball field, a team co-captain in his senior year. His post-graduation ambition is to "teach and coach in a relatively small rural high school."

THOMAS STEPHEN FORBES

Sociology (social dynamics)

"I am very excited and have a sense of achievement now that my four years of college are over. I regret leaving friends and fellow students when I graduate. But the time comes for all of us to supposedly move to bigger and better things." A graduate of HACC, Tom served his internship with the Lancaster County Planning Commission (Falk, 1976) under the direction of Dr. Worman. He's also been in some sports, making the starting five and earning letters on the golf team the last three years. He did work in sales at Harrisburg's Ram's Horn clothing store, is now training in the Fruehauf Corp.'s sales program. "An unusual hobby of mine is simply sitting anywhere in a shopping mall and watching people. People are the most interesting and uniquely comical things to watch ... I make many friends in the process."

HARRY D. FORREY II

Accounting

This Neffsville graduate was an Ober resident throughout his college life; the first three years he lived on B-3; his senior year saw him as Resident Assistant on B-1. Harry joined the Accounting Club his junior year, and SAM his senior year. He played most of the intramurals, including football, volleyball and soccer. In September, Harry was married to a member of the class of '77, Vicki Thomas.

PAMELA JEAN FRISCH

Social Science

Pam Frisch came to E-town from Cranbury (do not mistake for "cranberry"), New Jersey, the product of a Pennsylvania-New Jersey partnership; her Pennsylvania-born mother is a court clerk; her New Jersey born father is director of Purchasing for Rutgers U. Pam, who was in the History Club and Schlosser's Dorm Council, wants to get into a graduate school for library science, and hopes eventually to work in a children's library.

RICHARD ELVIN FRITSCH

Music Education

Rick Fritsch is, like so many others in the "music business", thoroughly immersed in his major, both within and without. The son of a Lancaster printer and a Columbia mailclerk, Rick, a commuter, sang in Choral Union and Chorale; he played in Piano and String Ensembles, and was organist for Concert Choir his sophomore and junior years. A "sometimes" private music teacher, Rick is a member of the Lancaster chapter of the American Guild of Organists and belongs to the American Choral Directors Association. Among his outside duties are being the organist for St. Paul Lutheran Church (Lititz) and Misica Sacra of Lancaster.

MELANIE GARMAN

Business Administration

Melanie Garman, a Mt. Pleasant Mills graduate, has a brother-in-law who graduated from E-town, so she's not the first in her family to achieve an Elizabethtown education. The daughter of a mortician and a "sometimes" model, Melanie took an "advanced program" in college, whereby she graduated in three years instead of the usual four. She belonged to the Synchro Club, SAM, Marketing and sang in the Choral Union. Melanie plans to continue her education; in the meantime she would like to support herself as a buyer in women's fashions.

DENIS GAUGHAN

Business Administration

RANDALL DAVID GENTZLER

Accounting

"Going to E-town College has been one of the most unique experiences of my life." Originally from Spring Grove, where his parents run a hardware and grocery store, Randy was public-relations officer of the Accounting Club and treasurer to SAM; he sat in on faculty meetings of the business department as a student representative. In connection with his major, he served a four-month internship with a Camp Hill accounting firm.

CHARLENE GILGORE

Accounting

"It seems like yesterday that I wore that dink and had a sign around my neck," says this Lititz member of the class of 1977. "I am not anxious to leave, but I am anxious to begin my new life upon graduation." Charlene, married this May to David Cerass, held a position in the National Accounting Association as a student member, was involved in SAM and the Marketing Club. "I would not trade the memories I have from here for anything."

JOHN R. GRAHAM

Business Administration

John Graham, from Plymouth Meeting, has parents who are employed in education, albeit not on the college level; his father's a principal, and his mother's a secretary, for the Colonial School District. A graduate of Plymouth-Whitemarsh High, John was a member of SAM and the Accounting Club. He was also employed for a time by the athletic dept.

ARLA JANE GRAYBILL

Occupational Therapy

Arla Graybill says that she had a very good time attending Elizabethtown; "I felt as if it was easy to fit in because I feel as though I'm easy to get along with." From out of Millerstown, Arla was the first girl ever to win a Big 33 scholarship to this college (the scholarship is awarded to those of exceptional athletic prowess). In her major she took a number of clerkships, working at such places as the Lebanon V.A. Hospital and Pennhurst; she took her internship in West Philadelphia, where she "worked with emotionally disturbed people of low economic status." In connection with her athletic scholarship, Arla played guards on the girls' basketball team for four years, and also played co-ed volleyball and softball intramurals. Additionally, in October of last year, she was elected senior representative to the Homecoming Court.

DAVID MICHAEL GRAYBILL

Business Administration (Aug. '77)

Dave Graybill, a Lampeter-Stausburg graduate, is a 1974 transfer from Bloomsburg State. "It was chesper, and I enjoyed my social life more. But I feel the education is of a better quality here." Dave, who has worked in his dad's small business and traded in cars as a sideline, was a member of SAM, the Marketing Club and the Geology Club. He is something of a backpacking freak, having traversed the Appalachian Trail in four of its states.

KATHY GREENWOOD

Social Work

DEBORAH ANN GROSS

Elementary Education

"Perhaps today." That is Debi Gross' motto, and she has put it to good use. Her mother was a former graduate of E-town, now a secondary-school teacher and elementary-school librarian; her father (a Gettysburg graduate and Penn State M. Ed.) was the owner of a hardware store in Debie's hometown, Highspire. The winner of an E-town scholarship and a Ruth E. Althouse scholarship - "for sound scholarship, interest in teaching, and indications of creativity in enhancement of the learning process" - Debi made Dean's List every semester but her first. She did two years on the Cheerleading squad, was vice-president of Schlosser Dorm Council and a member of PSEA and the IVCF. Debi's favorite hobby? "Learning how to fall forward." A good hobby, some will say.

RICHARD GROVE

Accounting

JOSEPH GUNTHER

Business Administration

CARLA HACKMAN

Elementary Education

A Harrisburgher, the former Carla Hackman is the daughter of a state employee and a teller for Dauphin Deposit Trust Company. Carla sang for a year and a half in the Concert Choir; it would have been two years were it not for the hectic schedule of student teaching that invariably follows the education major. Carla was married in August to David W. Potts. Among her self-professed hobbies are historical sight-seeing and interior decorating.

DIRK W. HAGEN

Biology

Dirk Hagen comes from Parkesburg, a town known to those who ride the Amtrak Harrisburg-to-Philadelphia train as that one stop between Lancaster and Coatesville. Dirk took up a little of everything during his four years here; he played halfback on the junior-varsity soccer squad his freshman and sophomore years, was in the Brass Ensemble his junior year, and assisted professors Pepper and Stambaugh in their work. Dirk, an Abraxas inductee, hopes to get into a school of dentistry and make a career in that field.

ROBERT KIPP HALPIN

Early Childhood Education (Aug. '77)

"It's been a long five years — and expensive!" says Bob Halpin of his college life. A January '73 transfer from the University of Tampa (I disagreed with the humid and intolerable climate!), Bob got used to it here; "it's a family-structured institution compared to the high-rise philosophy of Tampa. He served his internship at the Hummelstown Child Care Center and the Wee Explorers Early Childhood Center. On the way to a degree he got on the dean's list. "I just hope to keep the many good friends I've come across at E-town, for with them the future's always shining."

DOUGLAS STEPHEN HALTER

Accounting

Doug Halter is one of those seniors who was always on the move; as a commuter, a job holder and a married man, all at once, he'd have to be. A Dean's list student, Doug has worked as an operations clerk for Yellow Freight Trucking for four years. He'll be celebrating his first anniversary with his wife, Eileen, a pre-nursing student at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lancaster, as this yearbook comes off the press. "I've been married only a short time . . . but there were no conflicting problems of being with spouse and studies. It did get a bit hectic sometimes, but in the end, it's really worth it."

PETER LAWRENCE HAYNES

Social Science — History

The son of two college professors (both graduates of Purdue University), Pete Haynes says of the future, "the more uncertain it is, the better. Security is important, but security is more than a guaranteed job or home and family. Materialism is only false security." A transfer from Madison College in Harrisonburg, Va. — ("I needed a change, mentally and physically") — Pete is an "active member" of the Church of the Brethren, having spent two summers as a dramatics instructor at Camp Swatara. One of his present tasks is as a youth group advisor to the Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren. Pete likes to write plays and short stories, "especially for youth; I enjoy trying to help others become more spontaneous through their love in Christ." As of the time this sketch was written, Pete was considering employment by the Brethren Volunteer Service, or graduate studies at Bethany Theological Seminary, Oak Brook, Ill.

MARK ALAN HECKLER

Communication Arts

"The future is a scary thing — yet I think a few fears are essential — to keep life in momentum. The years I've spent at E-town have been an intensely satisfying emotional experience and a great opportunity for personal growth and awareness. I have developed such a love for this school that it's going to be hard to leave, but the people I leave behind will remain an integral part of me for the rest of my life. Thank you, E-town — for the patience, for the freedom, and for the love . . ." This is what Windber-native Mark Heckler feels about his four years at E-town. A man of many talents, Mark has participated in a variety of things here; his activities included president of Alpha Psi Omega and Sock & Buskin, vice-president of Abraxas, Freshman Orientation Co-ordinator and DJ for WWEC. He took part in student government, being a Student Senator and member of many committees; in music, he was a tenor in Concert Choir and Chorale; but his center of attention on campus and off has been theatre. Mark has been involved in theatre from the moment he first set foot on campus freshman year, both on and off stage. Having played many different roles, his most notable were probably Sir Evelyn Oakley in Anything Goes, Tevye in Fiddler and Pseudolus in Forum. During his senior year, Mark had the good fortune to be selected to portray Jesus in the play Godspell at the Fulton Opera House in Lancaster. In addition to his many activities, Mark maintained a 4.0 average throughout his college career and graduated summa cum laude. About the future, Mark says, "I have many inner conflicts — concerning the future and my role in the world . . . but whatever course of events I eventually follow, it will be an exciting and fulfilling experience in this 'best of all possible worlds.'"

CAROL LAURA HELLINGER

Accounting

Carol Hellinger is a native of the New York area (Scotch Plains, N.J.); her father is a senior port engineer in the City, her mother teaches fifth grade in the suburb of Cranford. Carol belonged to the Accounting and Marketing Clubs and SAM, and made the Dean's List. "Upon graduating, I hope to have a job as a public accountant," she says. "My future plane? To work a couple of years, then become a certified public accountant."

WILLIAM HELM, JR.

Business Administration

JAMES D. HENNING

Social Science/Economics

"Grizz" Henning was born to two "Reading" natives; his father, of Reading, Pa., is a financial vice-president of Brubaker Tool and Die in Millersburg; his mother, born in Reading, England, is a guidance counselor at a Camp Hill elementary school. "Grizz" worked with the State Department of Transportation last summer and also interned at the Elizabethtown Borough office "on the administrative level" (Outside of these jobs, he has also worked in a Kinney Shoe Store). "Grizz", who was married in June to Cheryl White, hopes to go on to graduate school for his masters, then "obtain a position in either state or local government."

MELODY ANN HERSHEY

Medical Secretary

"Excited." That's the one word that described Melody Hershey's feelings on the eve of graduation. "I'm anxious to start working and use the skills that I have learned here." A Quarryville native and Solanco graduate, one of Melody's great interests in life is (understandable, in light of her first name) music; she was active in her high-school band and orchestra, played for two years in E-town's own Concert Band. Her freshman year was devoted in a small way to volunteer work at E-town's Crippled Children's Hospital.

PATRICIA HESKETH

Psychology

The former Patricia Hesketh hails from Kearney, New Jersey; where her mother is a doctor's receptionist and her father is a mechanic (both are New Jersey-bred). The recipient of SEOG and BEOG grants, along with a New Jersey State scholarship, Pat was a member of the Psychology Club and also did some volunteer work at Tri-County Planned Parenthood Clinic. Pat, who was married to Dr. Donald DiPette this April, plans to go on to graduate school and receive training for a career in family counseling.

RANDY E. HESS

Chemistry

Randy Hess is one of two chemistry graduates from Brinser 2-south; he lived in room 225, right next to Dave Huneberger in 227, and like Dave, Randy was well into student activities here. The son of a truck driver and a baker, Randy was intensively active as a Center Community representative to the Student Senate. For half a semester of his senior year he chaired the college's Campus Life Council and was on four other committees. He also chaired E-town's chapter of the American Chemical Society and was inducted into Abraxas, the men's honor society. Randy also bears the distinction of graduating cum laude.

JAY HIGH

RICHARD L. HIGH

Business Administration

Rich High is a Lancasterian; his father operates High Steel Structures Co. in that city, and his uncle - S. Dale High - is a 1963 graduate of Elizabethtown. A graduate of Conestoga Valley High, Rich was in SAM and the Marketing Club. Rich, whose hobbies include "investing in the stock market," hopes to get into a graduate school to earn his MBA, and get a job in business management following his second graduation.

STEPHEN WAYNE HILL

Psychology

Says Philadelphia-born Steve Hill, "Your future is determined by the basis you have made for it, and it is important to me to complete my established goals because life is too short to be looking back one day with the words, "If only I had." a resident of Ober B basement, Steve was the recipient of a John McKee scholarship. His junior year he wrote a psychological paper on "Recall Learning" that was accepted at the Northeastern Psychological Conference; and he spoke before the conference about his research. In addition, he was president of the Psychology Club as well as of the vice-president of the Outdoor Club and Black Student Union. Steve, the narrator of the original play And Maryba is Hungry (presented at the college during the 1976 CROP week), comments that, "It proved very interesting since I hadn't been active in theater since high school."

JUDITH STILES HODGE

Social Work

Judith Hodge's father is Paris-born, a Princeton graduate and principle scientist for the Kearfott division of the Singer Co. As for Judith, she transferred from the University of Bridgeport, Conn., her sophomore year. "I couldn't stand the city atmosphere . . . E-town is much more my speed." She has been married since last August the 14th to Thomas Hodge. "Marriage is time-consuming, but it's the best thing I ever did! Tom is terrific and married life is very satisfying." Judith worked in the Montgomery County Mental Health and Mental Retardation Base Service Unit and Catholic Social Services of Lebanon County. She hopes to "get a social work job and live happily ever after."

ANDREW D. HOFFMAN

Business Administration

Born in Hanover, Andy Hoffman's primary interest here at E-town was in the theatre. He was a part of the college company that presented Neither Friend Nor Foe to the Church of the Brethern's annual Conference in Wichita, Kansas, last year. Andy had a small role in Fiddler on the Roof, and was a member of Sock & Buskin. He is well remembered for doing cartwheels across the stage in his role as a Protean in A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum.

MARGARET CHARLENE HOFFMAN

Business Administration

Charlene Hoffman is the Haddonfield-born daughter of a couple of Temple University graduates — one's a substitute teach and the other works as a "supervisor of the hull section for J.J. Henry Company, naval architect and marine engineers." Charlene, whose name has appeared on the Dean's list, was a member of SAM, the Marketing Club and the Ski Club. She also played in Concert Band. She hopes to soon land a job in "Advertising or Marketing research."

DENNESE JEAN HOLLABUAGH

Elementary Education (Dec. '76)

Denny Hollabaugh managed to further her own studies in education through service as a resident assistant on Schlosser first floor for a year (she also did some R.A. duty during the 1976 summer session). A native of Mount Union, Denny was a member of E-town's PSEA Chapter; she did her required student-teaching assignment on the fifth-grade level at E-town Elementary School. Denny is presently employed by Cedar Crest Academy in Mount Union as a Kindergarten teacher.

JANINE RUTH HOOD

Occupational Therapy (Dec. '76)

"Despite the complaining I did while I was here, I feel as if I have been very well prepared by the college and its staff to head out into the world." The Murrysville-born daughter of a research chemist, Janine was a member of three clubs: OT, Outdoor and Geology (she was secretary of the third). You may have seen her on the women's track team (running the mile and the half-mile), or in the cafeteria serving food and helping to clean the trays. This last spring semester Janine served a twelve-week affiliation in the OT department of St. Joseph's Hospital in Lancaster with psychiatric patients. "I will remember many good times from (my) days at E-town."

DENNIS PAUL HOSLER

Accounting

Dennis Hosler is originally from Mechanicsburg, the town of his parents' birth (his father, an ex-sailor, works for Bell of Pennsylvania; his mother's a housewife). Here at Elizabethtown, Dennis was a member of SAM and the Accounting Club. He took a great interest in sports; he ran cross-country his freshman year, and did the hurdles on the track team the next three years. He also was in Concert Band his freshman year. You may have seen Dennis quite a bit down in the B.S.C.; he's one of the Control Center crew.

JAMES ERNEST HOWER

History

"My father has taught school for forty-six years," says Jim Hower, "and has taught the subject I hate the most - mathematics." Well, at least there's still his mother - "a fine homemaker who keeps me and my father in line." Jim, a Lancastrian and Founders D-2 resident, belonged to the Geology Club his freshman year, and for the last two years was in the History Club; his second senior semester he worked at the Pennsylvania Farm Museum at Landis Valley. (Let us calmly note that Jim is a self proclaimed "hockey fanatic;" he has played the street hockey intramurals since his sophomore year, and catches every Flyers game that he can). "My experience at E-town has been wonderful."

LAUREN RUTH HUGG

Communication Arts

Says Elizabethtown's woman of a thousand faces, "It's amazing how fast four years can speed by! You think it will go slowly and before you know it you are standing in a line, shaking hands with your college president and receiving a diploma." But Lauren Hugg found college to be a growing place. "One never forgets the close friendships and valuable lessons of life one learns at college." Lauren is from Essex Falls, New Jersey, and her parents are co-presidents of the College's Parents Committee. She has had starring roles in several of the college's shows in the last two years, including The Importance of Being Earnest, and Arsenic and Old Lace for Rep Theatre; Forum (as Philia) and Plaza Suite (as Muriel). She did professional summer stock during 1976 in New Jersey, and starred in Anything Goes in New York State. Just this February, Lauren was one of three E-town students to appear in the Actors Company Production of Godspell at the Fulton Opera House in Lancaster. She also sang with the Concert Choir for three years, participating in tours to New England, Washington, D.C., and Chicago. Lauren's ambition: "to become a professional actress."

CHRISTOPHER IRVIN

Political Science

DAVID MARTIN HUNSBERGER

Chemistry

Dave Hunsberger says he enjoyed his four years at Elizabethtown, and enjoyed the "personal relationships that college life affords. Elizabethtown has a lot to offer its students; my only wish is that the students would become more concerned and involved in the decision-making processes and life of the college." The son of a lab technician for Firestone Tires, Dave was awarded a scholarship to E-town during "Junior Days," and made Dean's List his freshman year. He was very active in the "decision-making process" through membership for three years in the Student Senate (his junior year he served on the Campus Life Council). Dave also was a member of the college chapter of the American Chemical Society, and did some summer lab work for Firestone.

J. EDGAR ISBELL

ROCHELLE YVETTE JACKSON
Social Science - Sociology

Chelli Jackson, a native of North Hills, Pa., has had a busy four years at E-town. She was very active in clubs; a member of Alpha Kappa Delta, Sigma Lambda, Sock & Buskin (she was vice-president of the latter two), Alpha Psi Omega, Alumni Council, Freshman Orientation Committee, and Concert Choir of which she was secretary her sophomore and junior years and vice-president her senior year. But Chelli's major activity on campus was theatre. During her four years she portrayed Sabina in Skin of Our Teeth, Bonnie in Anything Goes, Hippolyta in A Midsummer Night's Dream, and Frumah-Sarah in Fiddler. She also acted in You Can't Take It With You, and in And Marybai is Hungry in connection with hunger week. Off campus, during her senior year, Chelli was fortunate to receive a leading role in the Actors Company of Pennsylvania's production of To Be Young, Gifted and Black presented at the Fulton Opera House in Lancaster, and also be one of three E-town students to perform in the company's production of Godspell which also played at the Fulton. In addition to acting, Chelli also spent some time doing backstage work for shows. About her time here, Chelli comments, "I have learned to love Elizabethtown College very much, not only for the very exciting and enjoyable times and experiences that I have had, but also for the times of agony experienced that I'm sure have contributed to making me a better person. E-town has done more than an adequate job in preparing me for the future. I hope sincerely that E-town maintains its fine standards and keeps up the good work!"

CYNTHIA ANN JACOBS
Medical Secretarial Science

"This college is fantastic," says Cindy Jacobs. "I feel it will provide me with a great background for my future plans. It definitely develops you into becoming a well-rounded individual through the many different academic departments." A York Suburban alumna, Cindy was a member of the Naugers (the Synchronized Swim Club), and worked last summer as a part-time secretary for the Business Department. One more thing about E-town - "The social life is fantastic, too!"

NANCY JAMES

NANCY ELLEN JOHNSON

Medical Secretarial Science

"Naturally, I am looking forward to graduation!" That's the opinion of the Upper Saddle River (N.J.) student. "I have grown intellectually as well as culturally." Nancy, whose parents are from the Philadelphia area, worked in the college post office "a year and a summer," and belonged to the PSEA. "My plans for the future? To find a job and be happy, to be successful, to continue to develop my individuality."

ROBIN JOHNSON

Social Work

SANDRA MAY JOHNSON

Elementary Education - Special Education

Sandy Johnson, a Springfield (Pa.) native, has education to her right and left. Her mother is a kindergarten teacher and her father an elementary school principal. Sandy spent several weeks the May before last in a "junior-high learning-disabilities classroom" where she observed a class of learning-disabled students and did the usual student teaching and observation. Outside "the classroom," Sandy spent all but her sophomore year playing right halfback for the varsity field-hockey team, and played the intramurals - "soccer, volleyball and co-ed softball."

BRIAN DANIEL KARGMAN

Social Science

"My four years at Elizabethtown have gone by very fast. In the most part they've been enjoyable and I'm sure that what I've learned will help me later, both socially and economically." Malaga - (N.J.) born Brian's father is terminal transportation manager of National Freight Company, Inc. in New Jersey; his mother teaches elementary school. A dorm representative in Founders A-1 for four years, Brian is best noted for his play at the Guard position on the E-town varsity basketball squad for three years.

MARCIA LYNN KAGARISE

Mathematics

Marcia Kagarise's hometown is New Enterprise, Pa. in Bedford County; she is the daughter of a cabinet maker. A graduate of Northern Bedford County High, Marcia transferred from Penn State (Altoona Campus) in 1974. This Myer resident has worked as an assistant in the math department (specifically, for Professor Dolan) and likes to do embroidery and reading in her spare time.

SALLY ANN KALTREIDER

Business Administration

"I've really enjoyed my years here at E-town. I've gotten to know so many fantastic people - staff and faculty as well as students. I really learned a lot here, but academics have only been part of that." Sally Kaltreider's family owns a seventy-acre farm, and has turned out one other E-town graduate: Sharon Kaltreider ('75). Sally received an academic scholarship, got twenty-six credits just from taking the CLEPs; her last two years here she worked as student assistant to the Political Science Department. "Whatever I do in the future, I think I'll always consider E-town as a great background for that future."

REBECCA JEANNE KEEFLER

Music Education

If it's anything musical, Becky Keefler has been involved in it. It might be wise just to list the musical groups this Elizabethtown-born senior was in just to get a taste of the extent Becky was active in music. She played in the Stage, Concert and Intercollegiate Bands, Woodwind Choir and Clarinet Quartet and the Orchestra; she also sang in the Concert Choir and Chorale. Becky has a part in the Harrisburg and Lancaster Youth Symphonies and holds membership in the Hershey Orchestra Society and the Hershey Woodwind Quartet, the American Guild of Organists, and Local 296 of the American Federation of Musicians (Columbia). Becky is the director of music and organist at the Conoy Brethern-in-Christ Church and was honored as queen by the International Order of Job's Daughter's. Naturally, one of her favorite hobbies is "composing and performing music." Another hobby is ceramics; she was student supervisor in the barracks ceramic lab.

KAREN KETTERMAN

KATHY ANNE KISH

Biology

Kathy Kish quotes from an anonymous source on the meaning of success: "To laugh often and love much; to win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children; to earn the approbation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others, to give of one's self, to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived - this is to have succeeded." Kathy is the daughter of parents who run a specialty shop (artificial flowers, cards, decorations, invitations, etc. sold there). She has done much work in the community, including volunteering for Nottingham Rehabilitation Center for the Physically Limited and the Deborah Heart and Lung Center (both in New Jersey). Back here, she edited the 1976 Conestoga, was president of Schlosser Dorm Council her Senior year; in her department she was Mr. Laughlin's Ecology and Plant Physiology Lab Assistant. Other club memberships include the synchro and biology clubs.

ROBERT LANGDALE

Business Administration

CRAIG ALBERT KNABB

Accounting

Craig Knabb has a demanding goal set before him: "To become the best controller to have ever graduated from E-town College, to be successful personally and financially, and to ultimately help those less fortunate than myself." Craig, a Fleetwood senior (his father's president of Reading's Specialty Design and Manufacturing Co.), was on the Dean's List four times. His extracurricular activities include membership in Abraxas and work on an accounting internship in early 1976. After passing his CPA exam Craig will work in industrial accounting and attend night classes at Lehigh for a master's degree in accounting - both at once.

CAROL LISBET KROH

Medical Secretary

Carol, a one-time resident, is out of Colonia, New Jersey. The daughter of a watch maker and a Texas-born housewife, Carol had her own radio show on WWEC, managed the men's swim team and played a couple of the intramurals - softball and volleyball. Carol did her med. sec. practicum at the Masonic Home's Hospital.

JOAN MARIE LEAMAN

Early Childhood Education

This York graduate, who for three years lived in Schlosser 106, has a bit to be thankful for. She served in a number of college organizations, including Sigma Lambda Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta (she was secretary-treasurer of the latter), and was secretary and vice-president of Schlosser's Dorm Council. The recipient of an E-town scholarship and a summa cum laude, Joan married Mel Leaman - the youth director at a Florida church - on June 23, 1976. "I had to come back to Pa. for seven weeks to finish student teaching. It was difficult leaving Mel after being married only two months." But things are now on the right track for the couple; she resides in Florida. Joan hopes to get a teaching job, preferably pre-school or primary.

ERIC ALLISON LEFRANCOIS

Communication Arts

"Being of a mildly radical nature," says Eric LeFrancois, "I would like to see this college taken to task about some of its practices. (otherwise) I've enjoyed my years here and hope the college has enjoyed my being here." Born in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia - his father works there as a foreman for Trans World Airlines - and educated at the Good Shepherd School in Addis Ababa, Eric was in almost every conceivable E-town theatre production. His most recent roles were as Miles Gloriosus in Forum, Bassanio in The Merchant of Venice and Lysander in A Midsummer Night's Dream. He worked in the department for several years and was a member of Repertory Theatre as well. Eric was also a student assistant to Barry Friedly, and "worked many long hours in the cafe."

LANETTE MARIE LEHMAN

Music Therapy

Carlisle's Lanette Lehman was, for two years, a student at Messiah; she doesn't give any reason for transferring except to say that E-town and Messiah are "both unique and cannot be compared." Lanette did fieldwork at three different institutions (Mifflin Educational Center, Schock Senior Center and Philhaven Psychiatric Hospital), worked for the Pennsylvania Easter Seal Society through three years' service as a counselor at Camp Harmony Hall. An alto in Concert Choir and a musician in the Concert Band and Fiddler's orchestra, Lanette hopes to do her M.T. internship out west (California or Colorado, preferably), and later go to Vermont to work at a crippled children's home.

RUSS ALLEN LEIBENSBERGER

Business Administration

It's an old cliché that transportation is the life blood of the nation. But so it is with Russ Leibensperger, an East Texas (Pa.) graduate. His father is the president of two transportation firms, and has headed the Pennsylvania School Bus Association. One of Russ' interests is antique cars; his father inherited from his father a 1929 Ford Model "A" roadster - with a rumble seat - and a 1922 Reo School Bus; he is to inherit them some day, himself (for now, Russ has to content himself with a snowmobile). Russ has the distinction of being a member of Ober A-3's championship intramural basketball team for two years, and was voted MVP when E-town proved victorious at the 1976 Millersville Intramural invitational. What is Russ doing now? Working for his father, the president.

KENT CRAIG LESHER

Mathematics

Born in Adamstown to an office worker and a butcher, Kent Leshner expressed a slight bit of indecision regarding his prospects of a future job, but is leaning towards teaching: "I originally intended to go into secondary education, and am getting certified in that area. I'm unsure if I'll enjoy teaching. I have an interest in continued education in the geological field." This Founders resident was on several Dean's Lists and was a Blue Jay wrestler his freshman and sophomore years.

KAREN DENISE LIGGINS

Political Science

The oldest of six York-born children, Karen Liggins admits to being very fortunate in attending college; usually, she says, it's the younger children who get all the advantages. "My parents' love brought me through." A firm believer that "an understanding of this country and other nations is vitally important in keeping pace with world events. She was twice named secretary of the Black Student Union and was in the Outdoor Club. Karen's goal is to work in consumer affairs.

CAROL LEA LINGLE

Medical Secretary (Dec. '76)

"I've enjoyed E-town tremendously - mainly because of the great friends I've made here. But I'm ready to get out of school for a while, work and get a place of my own." A local of Palmyra, Carol is a real athletics fan; she played forward and center on varsity and JV women's basketball, and taught jazz dancing and acrobatics at a dance studio during her high-school years. Her full-time work as a position transcriptionist at the Hershey Medical Center is, she hopes, just the start of a good life; "If my future holds a decent job, a nice place to live, and contact with my friends - I'll be very happy."

HARRIS K. LIPPINCOTT

Sociology

DIANE ADELE LOMBARDI

Accounting

Diane Lombardi was a freshman transfer from Ursinus in January, 1974; her brother, Matthew ('75) was already working on a degree at the time. Says she: "The campus here is much friendlier. The food here is better. And the work is a lot easier." The president of her junior class, Diane was a member of SAM, the Accounting Club, and the NAA. She also played fullback on the JV field-hockey team her sophomore year, and forward on the JV women's basketball team her junior year. It's likely that you saw her at the Alpha switchboard or in the dining hall as a line worker. Her after-graduation hopes are (1) to get married and (2) to "attain an accounting-and computer-related job."

JOHN MARTZ LUZIK

Social Science

Born in Steelton to a Signal Corps veteran of the Second World War (now the head of a general contracting firm in Steelton, to which his wife is secretary), John Luzik served as a "vice-president" a couple of times, in both the Aero Club and his junior class. He also took part in the Scuba and Psychology Clubs. John partook of some sports, too; he wrestled one year, and helped out the new track team with college records in both the shotput and the discus; he also co-captained the team his senior year.

ARNO PETER MACHOLDT

Biology

This Oberite, from out of High Bridge, N.J., is the son of a German-born doctor of medicine and a New York-born secretary. Pete Macholdt was president of the Scuba Club the past two years; it was, of course, during one of those two years that the club made its decision to break the world underwater chess-playing record. He also oversaw the treasury of the Aero Club his sophomore and junior years. Pete also managed to get a stab at playing intercollegiate tennis.

KENNETH ROGER
MACMILLAN

Accounting

Ken MacMillan is the third of his family to graduate from E-town; two brothers – Robert and Donald – graduated from here last year with degrees in engineering. Burlington-born, Ken was business manager of The Etownian, and also belonged to the three major business clubs on campus (SAM, Accounting and Marketing). He was also rather active in sports, playing line on the varsity soccer squad and doing the pole vault for the track team (of which he was tri-captain).

CHARMAINE LOUISE ("MIMI")
MACMULLEN

Elementary Education

San Francisco-born, Mimi MacMullen was raised in Philadelphia, where her father works as an office manager for Scott Paper's South Philly headquarters. She came to E-town with a four-year, $4000 scholarship; with the help of that scholarship, Mimi made Dean's list every semester and graduate cum laude. Mimi has had a wide and varied life outside the classroom – as manager of the field-hockey team her first three years, and also for six semesters in the Choral Union, and a member of the IVCF. Mimi came into close contact with children as observer and student teacher at the Conewago, Mill Road and Derry Township elementary schools, and volunteer work for E-town's Hospital for Children and Youth.

JEFFREY MADARA

DEBRA LYNN MANBECK

Social Work (Aug. '77)

Born in Camp Hill (to a couple of whom the father is presently a technician at the New Cumberland Army Depot and the mother is a data recordist for Blue Shield), Debbie, a member of the Social Work Club, served her internships at the Pennhurst State School and Hospital for the Mentally Retarded and the mental health/mental retardation unit of the Harrisburg Hospital.

LOUISE MANCINI

English – Secondary Education

Louise Mancini, a New Cumberland member of the class of '77 was born to an Italian mother and a Hershey father (the latter holds a job as a mechanical engineer). Her after-class time was devoted to such pursuits as the Supreme Fiction Society, the Synchronized Swim Club (of which she was co-chairman) and the Conestogan, 1977 edition (of which she was business manager). A tutor for three years in the Wenger Center's Writing Lab and a student teacher at Cedar Crest High, Louise hopes to pursue a career in secondary school teaching in the near future.

ERIC RAY MAST

Biology - General Science Education

Eric Mast, a resident of Shermanstown for twelve years, came to E-town and cleaned up in the sport of wrestling. In his weight class - 118-126 pounds - he was the 1974 champion in both the MAC's and the NCAA (division III), was named an All-American, and a member of the NCAA Division I All-American Freshman Team. He has since placed runner-up in the 1976 MAC's, and was, in his last two years here, co-captain of the Blue Jay wrestlers. An R.A. in Ober Residence the last two years, Eric has coached a "tenner league" baseball team for four years. Every "spring or summer" Eric takes to the canoe; he has been on the Susquehanna, Juniata, Penns Creek, and Pine Creek - "through Pennsylvania's Grand Canyon."

KEVIN LEWIS MAULE

Sociology

A resident of Coatesville, Kevin Maule transferred from Indiana University of Pennsylvania in 1974; as he puts it, "Elizabethtown is a far better school; there, one is a person and not a number." That year he was married to Kathleen Denilen; without her "encouragement and support," Kevin says, he would never have gotten through college. He will be glad to "get out into the real world;" on the other hand, he also "wishes to do something for the betterment of mankind. I know it sounds very idealistic, but perhaps what we need are more idealistic people who refuse to be fitted into the mold of someone else, who are not afraid to make their dreams into reality."

DEBRA MURPHY MCCANN

Elementary Education (Dec. '77)

Debra is a relative newcomer to the area; Columbia (S.C.) born and Atlanta bred, she moved to Hershey in June, 1975, where her husband, Randy, had recently gotten a job. E-town, says Debbie, is much like the school she transferred from (Young Harris College, Ga.); "both are small and the people are friendly." She is very happy with wedded life. "He helps with the housework, etc., so I can spend time with my studies. Very helpful!" She hopes to get a teaching job after graduation, but admits that it's doubtful because of the present shortage of jobs in education.

CHARLES WILLIAM MCCREARY

Religion and Philosophy (Dec. '76)

"College is for learning and is not to be used as a social retreat." Charles McCreary should know. At Juniata, which he attended before transferring to Elizabethtown in December '75, "dorm life was not very conducive to studying; only the really well-disciplined can make it work." Luckily, his attitude toward college changed immensely with his transfer. His future goal is "to serve God to the best of my ability in whatever I do" - as would befit a Religion and Philosophy major.

SHARON MCPHERSON

Occupational Therapy (Dec. '76)

Sharon Renee McPherson was married last August to a "very wonderful" man, Bryan D. Coleman, in her hometown of Lebanon, New Jersey. "Our philosophy: we talk about problems or concerns to the fullest, making sure each knows what the other is saying. This will make things a lot clearer and make for a better understanding of one another." Sharon did her clerkships at Harrisburg State Hospital, the E-town Hospital for Crippled Children and the Delaware Curative Workshop; she did a three-month affiliation at Coatesville V.A. Hospital. Here at E-town she was in the OT Club, and participated in the Big Brother/Big Sister Day program.

ROBIN KAYE MEINHART

Business Administration

"I'm looking forward to graduation, but I will miss many of the people I have come to know at E-town," says this Willow Grove native, a resident of Schlosser Two-East. The daughter of a Western Electric supervisor, Robin was a member of Schlosser's Dorm Council, the Marketing Club, and the Concert Band. She issues a fond "thank you to my professors and friends, without whom these four years would not have been as enjoyable or as meaningful as they were."

REGINA HELENE MESCHKO

Communication Arts/Foreign Languages

"My home is not one town or in one continent. My home is the world in its entirety." Appropriate words for one who has traveled the world as Regina has. Born and raised in Morganville, N.J., Regina attended Marburg University in Germany; there she was a theatre critic (reporting on plays in various German cities), assisted in crew and publicity work for the collegiate theatre, and "manned the 'Ruder Verein' - a three-person rowing team. At E-town, she has worked the Jay's Nest and Dining Hall, and took interest in students from abroad. Among her many hobbies are Greek dancing, yoga, progressive art (that's painting on people's faces) and watching old silent movies. "I hope to be able to promote world peace and unity, to bring the peoples of the world together in understanding - to share in the giving of self."

DONALD P. MESZAROS

Business Administration

CAROL ELIZABETH METZLER

Accounting (Dec. '77)

Carol Metzler is from Malvern, a Philadelphia suburb; her parents are of the area, too (her father is a "commercial free-lance artist", and her mother works for the INA Corporation). Carol was into swimming in quite a few areas: first as captain of the swim team her freshman and sophomore years, and then as the costumes chairman - later co-chairman - of the Synchro Club. She was also secretary (her junior and senior years) for SAM.

B. VAUGHN MILLER

Accounting

"Elizabethtown is a good school." Those are the simple and emphatic words of this Mahneim Senior, a commuting student. Vaughn transferred from Shippensburg State College in January, 1975; "Both schools are basically the same except Shippensburg is much bigger." Vaughn received an Elizabethtown scholarship upon his arrival here.

COLLEEN DAWN MILLER

Mathematics

Hummelstown's Colleen Miller - who call her Conny - is a math major, but her background didn't preasege it; her father is an electrician and her mother is the director of allied health at Harrisburg Hospital. Conny became a member of Alpha Lambda Delta with her first freshman semeater, that semeater helped her to achieve magna cum laude standing. Conny student-assisted in the math department starting with her Junior year, and also was a consultant in the computer center.

DANIEL CHARLES MILLER

Accounting

"College is much more enjoyable when you live on campus rather than when you commute." And Dan Miller's record at E-town bears out this remark. A Harrisburg local and a 1975 graduate of Harriaburg Area Community College, Dan received an academic scholarship to our campus. His extra-curricular duties include the treasurer of the Activities Planning Board and Abraxas, and membership in the Student Senate as the Business Department's representative. His post-graduation hope is to get a job as a CPA and "get involved in the business world."

JANET ELAINE MILLER

Special Education

A resident of Bridgewater, N.J., Janet transferred to Elizabethtown after her sophomore year. She had previously attended Concordia College (Bronxville, N.Y.), where her major was elementary education. She transferred to Elizabethtown in order to take advantage of its special education program offered in conjunction with Millersville State College. Janet has had a great deal of practical experience with children. She has worked as an intern with the deaf and the emotionally disturbed. She was also a camp counselor for three years and enjoys the outdoors. Her future plans involve children. That is, any type of education or counseling she can offer them.

LETA RENEE MILLER

Business Administration

Leta Miller is the Huntingdon-born daughter of a lumber company owner and a woman who "works hard at being a good mother." The winner of an E-town scholarship Leta was once on the staff of The Conestogan during her early years here. She also played a lot in the intramurals - softball, volleyball, and paddleball. During the summer of 1976 she was selected for a federal Summer Intern Program; a little earlier that year she was chosen by the college as a Student Admissions Associate. She hopes to begin graduate study in "management information systems," preferably at the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.

LISA A. MILLER

Early Childhood Education

Lisa Miller comes out of Norristown and graduated from the high school bearing that town's name. Lisa's main non-academic accomplishment here was as left inner on the aquad that won the MAC and Pen-Mar titles in 1975, as well as the aquad that finished third in the 1976 MACs. Lisa was in the PSEA and the Outdoor Club; she was also involved in Big Brother-Big Sister Day. Lisa "eagerly anticipates" graduation and hopes to get a teaching job sometime thereafter.

RODNEY DONALD MILLER

Accounting

Rodney Miller waxes philosophic as he leaves Elizabethtown: "Are all of the 128 credits necessary for that much of a better job?" He has more specific comments on the following: "Graduation: It comes, and I'm in it! College: We can't always remain in this paradisa. Future: It's always there! Myself: I'll meet an Elizabeth Ray when I get to the White House!" Rod, whose parents are both educators, (he, the director of special education in I.U. #13; she, the instructor of Secondary Education at Juniata), states as his prime achievement here, "Not making Dean's List for four years!" He was active in SAM and the Marketing Club, and played the intramurals throughout his college career.

RONALD STEVEN MILLER

Business Administration

Ron Miller "Hopes that E-town can stay a small, personal college. The close relationship is what makes E-town what it is." A native of Cocranville, Ron is a graduate of Octorara High School; he played junior-varsity soccer as half-back his sophomore and junior years, and participated in intramurals. As this book was published, he was married to Miss Judy Wolf. "I enjoyed the E-town atmosphere, met many good people, and made some good friends."

TINA SUZANNE MIXELL

English/Spanish (May '78)

A little about Tina Mixell's parents: her mother is a registered nurse and her father a sergeant of the Pennsylvania State Police. This Sigma resident (Jan Gamby's roommate her sophomore year) is hard not to notice, especially in the English Department. She was the department's Student Senator her last two years here and served on the Supreme Fiction Society throughout her college career. "I am greatly interested in learning about other cultures and applying my handling of both the English and Spanish languages to bring people closer together." That's one reason why Tina, who spent last summer in Spain, will complete her education at the University of Barcelona. "I would like to work with children as they are the future of the world."

SUSAN L. MILLER

Elementary Education

NANCY A. MONDERO

Chemistry

We'll let this boisterous senior speak for herself. "I really feel that I have been put through hell to get my chemistry degree. There were certain required courses outside my major that made me physically sick along with pulling down my cum..." BUT... "I learned a great deal about myself and life in general during these four years, some of it directly related to being here at E-town. The two most vivid things I have learned: (1) Coumps are few and far between, and (2) Life is tough!" The daughter of a coal miner, Nancy was president of the Alpha Lambda Delta honor society, was secretary-treasurer to E-town's chapter of the American Chemical Society, and served in Student Senate, having been a year on the Campus Life Council. Nancy also tutored extensively in biology and chemistry. She played junior-varsity basektball for two years. (By the way, she does a "great imitation of Elvis Presley.")

DANIEL BRUCE MOSES

Biology

Dan Mosea was a student at West Chester State College his freshman year. He switched to Elizabethtown the following year because "West Chester was too crowded and structured. At E-town... you feel like an individual. Professors and school employees treat you much nicer and seem to care about you. That isn't true at a larger school." Dan, a Huntington Valley native, whose father is a manager for Sears & Roebuck (Philadelphia), plans to live at the shore for a while and see what comes up. "I don't plan on settling down in one place for awhile, if ever."

LUANN MOYER

Medical Secretarial Science

This two-year senior is from Freeburg, Pa. - "a very small town;" her parents own an Agway store in nearby Middleburg. LuAnn worked in the training room of the gym both her years here, and also volunteered at the Elizabethtown Hospital for Crippled Children and Youth. Though LuAnn can claim no "play acting" experience with our campus theatre, she has worked for a "hometown theatre" - the Brookside Playhouse - for several years.

DEBRA A. MOYER

Music Therapy

KAREN LYNN MUFFLY

Elementary Education

Karen Muffly is looking forward towards a teaching job in a small-town area, something like my hometown, Muncy (Pennsylvania, not Indiana), where her mother is a dental hygienist and her father an independent contractor. Karen was involved in "teaching-practicum" experiences her sophomore and junior years, and student taught at Landisville Elementary School, Hempfield Township. Karen was quite fond of being an E-town student. "The personal approach this college has toward its students" is one reason why.

DONNA LYNN MUSSER

Communication Arts

The Valedictorian at her East Juniata High School graduation, Donna Musser won an E-town academic scholarship and made the Dean's List several times. Her work within her department included treasurership of Alpha Psi Omega, secretary-treasurership of Sock & Buskin and student assistance in Prof. Smith's office. She has also played a number of parts in campus productions, most notably Golde in Fiddler on the Roof and Eliphaz in J.B. Donna has been particularly active in the Repertory Theatre Company, participating in the group throughout her four years and travelling more than 4000 miles and performing before more than 25,000 people. During her senior year she was senior editor of the Conestogan and designed and created costumes for Forum in addition to working on the costumes for The Merchant of Venice. "The four years have gone so fast - it just doesn't seem possible that I'll be graduating in May."

DEBRA MYERS

Occupational Therapy (Dec. '76)

A 1974 transfer from Messiah College - "There are more activities at E-town, but not as much unity among the students" - Debra still retains ties to the old school through her marriage to Larry Spittler, a December, 1976 Messiah graduate (He's a music education major and proficient in most of the brass instruments). Debra was halfback on the varsity field hockey team for two years, and worked as a waitress in Elizabethtown's Lancaster County Farm Diner.

LILA NAJI

Biology

Lila Naji was born in Shiraz, Iran, to the "best parents in the world - lovely, fantastic." There are six children in Lila's family; an elder brother is a surgeon at the University of Pennsylvania, and a sister, Mina, a 1975 E-town graduate in Biology now attending Drexel, have joined Lily in the United States. Lily was president of the foreign students' International Club from the Spring of 1976 on, and could not be missed behind the reception window of the Post Office, where she worked for three-and-a-half years. "To gain knowledge is very enjoyable to me, and I think coming to college is, too... College prepared me for a new life and a better understanding of my surrounding world." As of this writing she applied to graduate schools for the study of nutrition, "but still I'm not sure which country and which school I'll be going to."

DONALD LOUIS NAPP

Business Administration

Don Napp can claim King's Park, New York, as his home; his mother is a nurse at a state hospital and his father is a "medical specialist in the county of Suffolk" in suburban New York City. Don is best noted for his four years of play in varsity soccer; he was named to the second MAC team his sophomore and juniors years - he also received a Tri-State honor as a junior - and was co-captain of the 1975 team that brought E-town a third place finish in the NCAA Division III finals. Don spent the latter part of his college career down at Village Green Apartments

THOMAS EDWARD NEARY

Business Administration (Aug. '76)

In filling out the questionnaire on which his sketch is based, Tom Neary said, "I feel I have learned a great deal at E-town, both academically and otherwise; it's a very nice school." He continued, "I have done a lot and gained a lot from my experiences here, although you'd never realize it reading THIS QUESTIONNAIRE" A Penns Grove, New Jersey, resident, Tom was an R.A. in Orchard Co-op his senior year. He's also a big fan of sports, particularly auto racing (which he does a little bit of in the summertime).

TERRIE ANNE NEFF

Elementary Education

Considering that her mother is an interviewer for the U.S. Census Bureau, it may not seem surprising that Terrie Neff had a math concentration in her major. Raised in Edgewater Park, N.J., Terri was the recipient of a $1100-per-year scholarship from E-town. Partially as the result of two 4.0 semesters her junior year, she graduated cum laude. Among her extra-collegiate activities was a stint in student teaching at Mount Joy's Granview School and summer work as a switchboard operator for New Jersey Bell. Now that Terrie has graduated, what has she to say? "Seventeen years is a long time to go to school."

CYNTHIA NEIBERT

Mathematica

EDWARD W. NEUMAN, JR.

Accounting

Ed Neuman has this advice for any E-town student: "Don't plan for the future; make every day count." Ed is originally from York and graduated from West York Area High School. His dad works for the York Ice Company. Among his club memberships were SAM and the Accounting Club; you may also have seen him doing some work down in the dining hall.

JANICE ROSALYN NEWTON

Political Science

Janice Newton says she was happy to attend Elizabethtown; during her four years here she "gained knowledge academically and socially." The daughter of a supervisory clerk at the Philadelphia Navy Yard and a reading aide at Philadelphia's Climer Elementary School, Janice received a Basic Educational Opportunities Grant before coming here. She was a member of the college's Black Student Union.

PATRICIA ANNE NORELL

Elementary Education

"I've enjoyed my four years at Elizabethtown - I'd do it all over again if I could!" The parents of this Garden City, N.Y., senior grew up right across the street from each other. Pat Norell was vice-president of Royer Dorm Council her senior year; she also was part of the PSEA and the Ski Club. Skiing is Pat's favorite hobby; she's been at it since the age of five, and is a member of the Garden City Ski Club.

MIRIAM ROSE ANNE OAKUM

Chemistry

"Though I leave E-town with some remorse at leaving behind so much and so many I love, I leave knowing that it is because of these four years that I am able to love - others, God and myself." These words are spoken well by departing senior Miriam Oakum. Born in Mahanoy Plane, Pa. and graduate of Cardinal Brennan High in Ashland, Miriam received an E-town scholarship and distinguished herself academically by making the Dean's List many times and by membership in Alpha Lambda Delta honor society. She also distinguished herself in campus clubs and government, through student affiliation in the Society of Physics Students and the American Chemical Society. Her senior year she was elected chairperson of the Student Senate, and she was secretary of Senate the year before. Miriam is also interested in Religion and Philosophy she was president of the Newman Fellows and a member of IVCF. (Miriam is a self-confessed member of "Prickers Anonymous", an independent organization dedicated to seeing that everyone gets their just deserts. Classes in modern methods of "fixing" a room are available upon demand.)

ABEL OLUWADARE OLUFE

English

Abel Olufe was born in Ikoyi-Ijuma, Kwara State, Nigeria, to a very large titled family. His formal education began with "church sunday schools" and eventually education became his career. After attending Ahmadu Bello University (Zaria, Nigeria), Abel taught secondary school and supervised teaching programs and workshops. He came to America - and Elizabethtown College - in January 1976. "The program here is more liberal and more quantitative but much less deep ... personal interaction is more practicable here." While at E-town, Abel participated in a number of campus forensic tournaments, and worked in the Post Office. Abel is presently enrolled in a graduate curriculum at Millersville where he is looking forward to making writing his career.

PETER GARY ORTH

Mathematics

Peter is from a town not far from here - Coatesville to be precise - and is the younger brother of a 1967 E-town graduate. Pete, a member of the swim team, specialized in the 200-yard freestyle and the 200-yard butterfly. An off-campus resident in his last months here, one of Pete's occupations was, naturally, lifeguarding at the pool.

SUSAN ELLEN OSTIN

Social Science - Psychology/Medical Secretary

"My life at E-town has been good. What made it so good were the people I've met here. They've made everything bearable." Hazlet N.J. born, Sue has worked for the past two years as student assistant to Dr. Zanni. She likes music (all but Country-Western) and is something of a travel buff, having made four cross-country trips; a fifth in the offing after graduation. She hopes to get a job in a psychologist's office, which would bring together her study of psychology and her abilities as a medical secretary.

ROBERT ALLAN PADDISON

Chemistry

Bob Paddison, raised in York, graduated from the city's Central High. He was very active his years at E-town, as program director of WWEC his sophomore year, as well as two year president and member of SPS. Bob was a swimmer in the Synchro Club, and helped the Scuba Club attain its world record for underwater chess. While in his major, Bob served as both a tutor and lab assistant. He recently won an award from the American Chemical Society for work in analytical chemistry.

ORA JANE PETERMAN

Early Childhood Education (Dec. '77)

Born in Pottstown, Ora Jane is related to two other Elizabethtown students, Joann M. Hollinger and John Benner. Among this Sigma resident's involvements were the social directorship of PSEA her senior year, membership in the Synchro Club from her sophomore year on, and the Outdoor Club her junior year.

RICK PLUESE

Sociology

HOLLY ANNE PRATT

Accounting

Holly Pratt is a graduate of Brandywine College (where she was summa cum laude and won the President's Award for academic excellence). But she likes E-town a lot better. "There's so much more to do. The people are so friendly, and the profs go out of their way to help you." An E-town scholarship recipient, Holly was right-halfback on the varsity field-hockey team and specialized in freestyle diving on the women's swim team. She also helped correct papers for several of the professors in her department. "I'm sorry to have been here for only two years. I wish it had been four."

DOMENIC GERARD PUGLIESE

Social Science/History (Dec. '77)

Mick Pugliese has a lot to say about his time at this college: "After going through Elizabethtown, I have realized that I have made many valuable friends, both in the student body and the faculty. Elizabethtown offered me everything I needed for the future, in academic and in personal growth." Born in Lancaster and graduated from Lancaster Catholic High, here at E-town Mick participated on the track team and in intramurals. He was also a tenor in the Concert Choir. "With the help I've received from some of my close friends, I think I can face the future with confidence."

KAY LOUISE RAFFENSPERGER

Mathematics

"I am eagerly looking forward to graduation. I've enjoyed going to school here and I've met many people whom I now cherish as friends." Kay Raffensperger, a Gettysburg senior, received scholarships from the Federated Women's Club (Hershey) and the college to come here. After graduation, Kay "plans to go to Europe with a friend. We plan to hitch-hike all over Europe and come back when the money runs out." As an afterthought, she adds: "I hope I'll have a job waiting for me when I return."

BRUCE EARL REBER

History (Aug. '77)

Bruce Reber, well-known Ober resident, is a native of Owensboro, Kentucky where he graduated from Upper Dublin High School. Among his extra-curricular activities were the presidency of the History Club, vice-presidency of Phi Alpha Theta (History honor society), and membership in Abraxas. He was also vice-chairman of Student Senate, where his watchword was tight control over all funds. In addition to all these activities, Bruce was also an RA his junior and senior years.

GAIL LOIS REIM

Music Education (Voice)

Gail Reim has taken great advantage of her music education here, being a member of nearly every musical group - from Braas and String Ensembles to Concert Choir, Gail joined the MENC her freshman year and remained an active member throughout her college career. (She was vice-president her junior year.) Gail traveled to Austria with Dr. Shull in the spring of 1975 to study music history and art. "If there is one thing I am grateful for," she relates, "it is that I met my fiancee here" (Sheldon Bair, '76 graduate in music). Gail and Sheldon plan to live in Maryland, and to possibly attend graduate school.

JOHN ANDREW RESSLER

Business Administration

A native of Lancaster and a McCaskey alumni, John Ressler majored in business with a concentration in Health Care Management and Computer Science. Among his numerous club memberships were the Commuter Council and Outdoor Club; he was president of both his junior year. He was also a member of the Scuba Club, and the Freshman Orientation Staff his senior year. The recipient of a Dean's List Scholarship in 1975, John was inducted into Abraxas in October.

WILLIAM FREDRICK RIMMLER II

Medical Technology/Chemistry (Dec. '76)

"I would like to say," begins Bill Rimmler, "that these years will be ever present on my mind during my future endeavors. As I look toward graduation I would like to thank my D.J., for without him the Elizabethtown Experience would never have existed." Bill, born in York, has quite a few unique E-town Experiences on his record. As vice-president of the Scuba Club, he helped it attain a new world record for underwater chess, during the '76 T.G.I.S. weekend. For more than three years he helped maintain the BSC's bowling alley; he also proctored the Control Center for a year. With his roommate Bob Paddison, he co-founded the Chemistry Department's self help sessions, and tutored chemistry in the Tutor Center as well. Since last spring, he has held a job as research assistant to Dr. Spangler. And soon after this yearbook is issued, he will be married to Sharon Stober, a '77 Millersville graduate in social work.

SCOTT WESLEY RHOADS

Accounting

A student at two area colleges before finding his niche here, Scott Rhoads says, "E-town played a major role in my plan for a B.S. degree. I am grateful to the students and especially to the faculty in the business department for developing my skills in the field of accounting." The brother of Steve Rhoads ('78), Scott is married to Debra Jeffries, an executive secretary at AMP's Harrisburg headquarters. "As I progress along the path toward obtaining my personal goals and objectives . . . I shall never forget the people and place that made it all possible."

LUKE TATE RODERICK

Communication Arts

A Springfield native and brother of 1974 E-town graduate Skip Roderick, Luke blended his interest in sports and Communication Arts well in his years here. You heard him as an announcer on WWEC for three years as well as in the gym for Blue Jay basketball (during the 1975-1976 season). Luke was a member of the track team and served as its captain in 1976, and holds the college record in the long jump. He was partially responsible - with former Brinser 3-North cohort Tony Stellar ('76) - in promoting this year's benefit basketball game between the E-town varsity and the Philadelphia Phillies.

JAMES ALBERT ROTHERHAM

Accounting

All that Jim Rotherham has to say about his college life is that "it's been four fun years." Born in Emmaus, Jim was on the varsity basketball team where he played guard for three years and received the team's "Most Hustle Award" his junior year. Jim was in SAM and the Accounting Club, and played intramural volleyball and softball.

JAMES LOWELL ROYER, JR.

Business Administration

For Jim Royer, college was "unforgettable . . . I'm glad I could be a part of E-town's small friendly atmosphere." Jim had some E-town in him from the start; his grandfather (Chester H. Royer, '26) was a professor of English and history and a trustee here. One of Jim's favorite hobbies is golf; he was on the golf team for four years - serving as captain both his junior and senior years - and helped the college to runner-up spots in the Lebanon Valley and John Hopkins invitationals. He is presently employed as a salesman at his father's business, Royer Buick-Opel (Harrisburg), and was married just as this book came out to a classmate of '77, Cynthia D. Taylor.

MELISSA ANN RUHLMAN

*Business Administration
(Accounting)*

Melissa Ruhlman has a wide-ranging interest in travel; she has seen Spain, Thailand, France and a half dozen other countries. Academically, she has run a similar gamut; as a volunteer in the tutoring center, she explained topics ranging from Accounting and Economics to Calculus. A Dean's List student, Melissa was active in SAM and the Accounting Club, played intramural volleyball and tennis, and was a clarinetist in the Concert Band.

LINDA ANN RUOSS

Business Administration

Coming from Strasburg, Linda has gone to College year-round to graduate in three years. She's glad that home is only forty-five minutes away; "When you are going year-round there are times that you just need to get away." Linda concentrated on management and accounting within her major, "to widen my knowledge and to allow myself various alternatives in my career." Linda enjoys photography - her interest in it led her to join the Etownian staff. She also has a "multi-faceted dog collection."

ERIC W. SAEGBARTH

Business Administration

MARY LEE SAULNIER

*Secondary Education/Science
(Dec. '77)*

Mary Lee, out of Lancaster, is the third in her family to attend E-town, following her mother and sister Jeannie ('76). Noted for academic superiority, Mary Lee made Dean's List several times during her years at E-town.

ELOISE CARMEN SAVAGE

Psychology

Eloise Savage, out of Chester, is the daughter of a retired Army warrant officer, a twenty-three-year veteran of the service. As a student, Carmen was secretary-treasurer of the Psychology Club her senior year, secretary of Myer Dorm Council her junior year; in her major she worked three years as student assistant to Professor Ellsworth. Carmen plans to further her education in the field of rehabilitation counseling.

KATHRYN MARY SAYLOR

Psychology

The daughter of a Dallastown-born seamstress and a York-born purchaser for Goodling, Inc, Kathy Saylor (who herself comes from Dallastown) was awarded a number of scholarships on her way to E-town: a scholarship from the college, a scholarship from the ILGWU, and a scholarship from Mobil Oil on behalf of the National Merit program; she skipped a year of high school to be a student here. Kathy tutored Prob-Stat in the Tutoring lab her sophomore and junior years and worked for Professor Ellsworth her senior year as an assistant in Modes of Psychological Inquiry I and II. She had membership in the Psychology Club. Kathy didn't let her earlier academic excellence wane; she got her degree cum laude.

KIM MICHELLE SCHENCK

Business Administration

As Kim Schenck says it, simply and directly: "I enjoy working with people. And I'm proud to be an Elizabethtown graduate." Born in Middletown, (her father works for the school board here and her mother for Homestead Savings), - Kim has worked behind the teller's window for National Central Bank. She has been especially active in community affairs, serving as leader of Girl Scout Troop #1070 (Middletown) and chairwoman of a cancer fund-raising drive in Londonderry Township the March before last.

KEITH CHARLES SCHEUING

Biology

Keith Scheuing, in attempting to compare E-town with other schools, says the "communication" between students and faculty here is "far more advanced" than elsewhere. "The small college gives the student a good chance to learn to know other people," he says. A McCaskey alumni, Keith participated in S.P.A.D.E., a Lancaster association for budding theatrical talent, and directed its production of the musical Good News. He soloed "The Star-Spangled Banner" at football games and the Sponsugle Tournament, and has played trombone for the Concert and Jazz Bands and the Brass Ensemble. "I feel that I received as good an education as was possible."

JIM SCHLOSSER

Biology

CHERYL MARLENE SCHMICK

Biology

"The end of my freshman year was a period of great bafflement and transition" for Cheryl Schmick, then a student at Wilkes College. "I didn't know what step I wanted to take next ... Elizabethtown was a trial - but it worked!" The second cousin of an Elizabethtown alumnus (Dr. Idell Wenger, '65), Cheryl was married to Richard Schmick in May of 1976. "My husband was very understanding and helpful during this last year. He encouraged me when the load at school got heavy; he even helped around the house." After three "quick years," Cheryl is still "glad to be finished and excited about finding a job which is challenging, a job that truly interests me."

PAMELA WELLS SCHNADER

Communication Arts

"Right now I think, 'Oh, boy! I can hardly wait for graduation! I'll grab that diploma from President Mays' hand and tear off into the sunset.' But as the time approaches, I know that I cannot lightly leave an institution that has drastically contributed to one's growth and nurture." Pam Schnader has been very busy in the journalism end of her department, working her way up from copy reader to become editor-in-chief of the The Etownian - "a creative learning, teaching and sharing experience." She has also participated in several forensics tournaments, and worked for The Conestogan and WWEC. "I leave a small portion of me behind, but I take a larger portion with me, all primed for action in that uncertain Outside World."

JACQUELINE ANNE SELTZER

History

Jacqueline Seltzer, raised in Pennington, New Jersey, is the daughter of a banker and an assistant in an art gallery. As history was her major, so it was her primary pursuit outside of the classroom; she was a member of the History Club and her sophomore year, became an inductee to Phi Alpha Theta, the history honor society. The student assistant to Professor Poole, and a spring history intern at Harrisburg's William Penn Museum, Jacqueline graduated magna cum laude.

CAROLINE EVANS SHAW

French (Dec. '78)

Though they are in sparse supply at E-town, there are such things as language majors, and Caroline Shaw is one of them. Formerly from Mount Holly, Caroline earned a few neat distinctions for herself; she made the Dean's list in the spring of 1975, served in that year as board secretary to station WWEC, and managed the swim team during her sophomore and senior years. Within her major, Caroline was a language department assistant, participated in the BCA program, and spent her junior year through its auspices in France (There's no better way to study French!).

PATRICIA LYNN SHEA

Chemistry

Her grandparents are of Ukraine descent, but this Newtown Square senior has an affinity for "wild Irishmen (i.e. Jamie O'Donnel)." We won't try to fathom the connection between the Ukraine and the Irish. We will say that Pat Shea was a freshman chemistry lab assistant for three years, and also worked as an organic chemistry tutor; for two years she held a summer job at the Wyeth Research Laboratory in Radnor, Pa. Pat is working toward a B.S. in Chemistry and hopes to do research on heart disease.

DANIEL SHETRON

Business Administration

MARK DAVID SHILEY

Mathematics (Dec. '76)

Mark Shiley hails from Elizabethtown, and his parents are of the area, too; his father being a sub-foreman for Bethlehem Steel (Steelton) and his mother (Ruby) having been a secretary at the college. Mark tutored in his major his junior and senior years, and did plenty of heavy work for the Maintenance Department throughout his college stay. Mark, who attended a couple of classes here during his high-school days, earned cum laude standing. He began study at Penn State's University Park campus this March. His intention there: to earn a "double" master's degree in Economics and Operations Research.

JAN SHIREY

Social Work

"I can't believe this is my senior year! I'll be really sad to leave E-town. But I wouldn't be content to live and work here. Besides, since my major is social work, it would be a miracle for me to find a job here." Jan's father, out of McKeesport, manages two on-plant railroads for U.S. Steel in Pittsburgh. Jan herself worked at Lebanon County's Juvenile Probation Office as probation officer and counsel for several delinquent high-school students. She served on the board of directors and chairman of the by-laws committee of the Pennsylvania Association of Undergraduate Social-Work Students, and headed the college's new Social Work Club. One of Jan's big interests is music; she sang for three years in Concert Choir.

TIMOTHY SHROM

DIANE JOYCE SHUPP

Business Administration

"My time here at E-town has been quite enjoyable," says this New Cumberland native, a 1975 HACC graduate. Daughter of an auditor for the West Shore Wage Tax Bureau, Diane's uncle attended E-town and graduated in 1961. She was a member of the JV women's basketball team her junior year — "my best position was bench warmer." Though she admits her plans are rather sketchy at the moment, Diane hopes to become an "accountant in a large business."

JAMES RANDALL SHUPPER

*Psychology — Social Science
Aug. '77)*

Don't call him James or Jim, call him Shuppie (pronounced shoo-pee). This long-time Brinsler Three-North resident is the son of a manufacturer's representative of New York City background. Among some of the things he has done was work in Campus Theatre's production of Thornton Wilder's The Skin of Our Teeth and joining, briefly, the track team. Shuppie is, at this writing, looking to get into Western Michigan University in the field of rehabilitation teaching of the blind (Shuppie himself is partially blind) to "get these people adjusted to their new life, a situation they must learn to adapt to." Shuppie previously worked at E-town's Cripples Children's Hospital his freshman year.

WILLIAM SIEBERT

STEPHANIE ANN SIEGEL

Elementary Education

"My four years in school here went so fast; unfortunately I can't believe it is over." Stephanie Siegel didn't have to travel far to find this place; she's a Lebanon native and a graduate of Lebanon Catholic High. Her primary club membership was with the E-town chapter of the PSEA; she was its treasurer her junior and senior years. Stephanie hopes to get a teaching job - in this area, if possible.

KATHRYN SLAMIN

Accounting

ELIZABETH ANN SLAMP

Music Education

"College hasn't been all fun," says Elizabeth Slamp. "I've worked very hard for this degree. Every credit I've earned, I've earned by myself. And I'm very proud of that." Besty, a Riegelsville native who (like both her parents) graduated from Easton High, was active in a number of the college's musical groups, including Concert Band and Concert Choir; she made tours with the latter to Chicago, Washington, D.C., and Virginia. She also served as Children's Home Choir director at the Masonic Homes, and gave private piano lessons. Married since May to James Schwarz, Betay hopes to settle down with a "teaching job in the Lehigh Valley area," and to "attend graduate school and pursue church music."

BEVERLY SMAY

Chemistry

If you believe E-town is "obscure," think of the college Beverly Smay transferred from in 1975 - Thiel College in Greenville. According to Bev, Thiel differs from E-town in that it doesn't offer a B.S. in Chemistry, it has sororities and fraternities - "a detriment to campus unity" - and it's not as friendly. Bev's a member of the ACS and SPS chapters at Elizabethtown, and served as a Red Cross volunteer one summer; she also did work for the college as an assistant in the computer terminal room. Bev is hoping to find a job that involves a little of both computers and chemistry. (For the record, Bev is a collector of Winnie the Pooh artifacts.)

DAVID SMITH

Accounting

ELIZABETH LEIGHTON SMITH

Occupational Therapy

This Sigma resident, who is always addressed by her middle name, quotes aptly from Dag Hammarskjöld: "... if only I may grow firmer, quieter, simpler, warmer ..." A former East Carolina University student, Leighton feels that "there is a more personal atmosphere at E-town, more informal especially with the administration and faculty." Leighton's foremost hobby is "appreciating creation in nature people; trying to capture the spirit of these creations in art." Her future: She says that "O.T. offers such a variety of job possibilities, it is just exciting to await the future ... The most important thing for each of us is not to be afraid of growing and letting life's process of unfoldment take place."

TERRY JAY SMITH

Physics (Aug. '77)

Terry Smith didn't attend Elizabethtown College first; his first higher-education experience was at Williamaport Area Community College and Bucknell University (Terry's mother is secretary to the business department at the latter); he earned a couple of credits from these institutions, but went for his B.S. at E-town. Married to Nancy Rickert, a 1975 graduate in medical technology, Terry participated in the Physics Club and the IVCF. His major interests are, understandably, holography and electronics.

MARK ROBERT SNAVELY

Mark Snavely (no relation to Royal) would like to "leave everyone a thought: that even though death may be a final end to life, life itself is eternal. So enjoy both realms." Mark, whose father is a vice-president of Philanthropic Mutual Life Insurance Company, helped out a local CROP committee as finance chairman, and served as a Big Brother his senior year. He likes hamsters, "even though they are insane." (It must also be noted here that Mark "makes nipples in a pipe factory.") Mark plans to attend a seminary following graduation.

PATRICIA SNIDER

JOANNE M. SORBELLO

Social Work

"I enjoyed going to a small college like this because of the more personal atmosphere, both with teachers and students. Joanne Sorbello hails from Woodbury, N.J. She interned at the Harrisburg Mental Health and Mental Retardation Clinic; at the college, she was Founders C-1's R.A. her senior year, worked the front line in the dining hall ("the food was the next best thing to home cooking"). Joanne, who hopes to soon get a job in her major, was engaged in January, 1977 to George Stauffer.

TRINELL ANN SORENSEN

Occupational Therapy

If there are any persons who made Trinell Sorensen's college life a good life, those persons are her parents. "(They've) always provided me with the support and encouragement which is necessary to get over the 'hump.'" Parents or no, Trinell has led a busy life at E-town. This Schaefferstown senior was a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, and was secretary-treasurer to Sigma Lambda Sigma. Her junior and senior years she was R.A. on Myer 2-East ("I thoroughly enjoyed it"); in September of last year she was elected Queen of the Homecoming Court. Trinell was on the Women's tennis team for four years; indeed it was while playing a tennis match on campus that she met her husband-to-be: Bob Ball ('74, and a recent law doctorate from Ohio Northern University); they married just this May.

ALYCE G. SPECTOR

Elementary Education (Dec. '76)

Education, notes Alyce Spector, "is a lifetime process ... but offers many rewards." Mrs. Spector ought to know. The mother of three - two sons at college, one daughter at high school - Alyce received support from her husband, an RCA distributor, in this second try at college; she attended Penn State in the fifties. Why return to college after such a long time off? "Penn State offered very few courses (in ed. ed.) in the late fifties and early sixties ... E-town offered me the opportunity to finish college at a difficult time." During her twenty-three years of married life, Mrs. Spector has been president of the Harrisburg PTA, a director of the Art Association of Harrisburg, and chairman of the local United Jewish Appeal. She is presently working on her master's in Adult Education at Temple University.

PATRICIA LEE SPOTTS

Business Administration

Pat Spotts, a resident of Schlosser, was raised in Waterloo, New York; her father, Clarence, is superintendent of the Oaks Corners plant of the Koppers Corporation; her mother, Joyce, is a buyer for Gould's Pumps in Seneca Falls, New York. Pat was graduated from a high school pretty close to home - the Newport High School in Newport, Pennsylvania.

SUSAN JEAN SPRENKLE

Medical Secretary (Dec. '76)

"My time spent at Elizabethtown was great. I really like the campus and the people I've met here. The time passed so quickly, but I have a lot of pleasant memories to look back to in future years. Sus, who is related to E-town graduate Gary Rohrbaugh (a math teacher at Spring Grove High), is looking forward to getting a job and working fulltime as a medical secretary. "I think I will find this area satisfying and somewhat challenging. E-town and the friends I made here will always have a special place in my heart."

JOHN SPRINGER

Accounting

DONNA LYNN STANT

Elementary Education

Born in Queenstown, Maryland (her father is executive vice-president of the Queenstown Bank of Maryland) and a graduate of Queen Anne's County High, Donna Stant received an E-town scholarship before coming here. She earned mention on the Dean's List one semester. Donna was a member of the college's chapter of the PSEA and was a dorm council representative in Royer her junior year.

GEORGE STAUFFER

Business Administration

RICHARD ERNEST STECKIEL

Business Administration

Richard Steckiel comes from the coal-mining area around Scranton - Dallas, to be exact. His father is district manager for Prudential Insurance Company, and has been married for twenty-seven years. A member of SAM, Rich made dean's list three times. Rick's specialty is clearly computers; he worked on those technological marvels at Prudential's Central Atlantic home office and was a computer consultant and programmer for Elizabethtown's own Computer Science Program.

JAMES WILLIAM STEIBER

Accounting

The recipient of a $6000 William T. Morria Foundation scholarship, Jim Steiber still has to say, "I look forward to graduation from a financial aspect." Originally from York, Jim served as president of the Accounting Club his senior year here, and was a member of Concert Band for three semesters. An avid reader of The Wall Street Journal and an active participant of intramurals, Jim is quite certain of where he'd go to college if he had to decide again: "I'd choose E-town College over all the rest; I had a good experience here."

GAIL KRISTINE STEINBERG

Early Childhood Education

"E-town has done a lot for me," says this Mendham, N.J., student. "I will cherish these four years forever; my experiences have been immense." Gail served as secretary to the Elizabethtown chapter of the PSEA, was a disc jockey for WWEC, and extensively involved herself in intramurals - volleyball, softball and soccer. "The friends I made, the good times I had will be cherished memories for a long time. All that I learned at E-town will never be forgotten."

BONNIE LOU STOOPS

Business Education (Dec. '77)

Bonnie Stoops happens to be the daughter of a former carrier for the Post Office (before it became unreliable). With her identical-twin sister, she attended Harrisburg Area Community College and majored in medical secretarial science. The recipient of an Elks South-Central District scholarship, Bonnie worked in the acquisition department of the college library. She says she is "very anxious to get out of school and begin my career as a business-ed teacher in either a high school or a business school."

JEFFREY WATTS STUBBLEFIELD

Accounting (Dec. '77)

Perhaps you've heard the name of Stubblefield some time in the recent past; an older brother of Jeff's, Randi, graduated from E-town in 1972, just as Jeff was making his way through Central Dauphin High. Jeff was into all the intramural sports: "football, tennis, men's basketball, coed basketball, coed volleyball, men's volleyball, and softball." Jeff also lays claim to a "beer can collection" of his own making.

ALICIA TAYLOR

Social Science - Political Science

This Woodstown, N.J., graduate, the daughter of an engineer for Mobil in Pauleboro, is intent on moving to the west coast, evidently to get away from the lack of sun at Elizabethtown. The member of a metown political organization" and a ten-year participant in a 4-H Project Club, Alicia was in this college's Outdoor and Marketing Clubs, and played on a volleyball team that won the intramural championship in 1975; her senior year saw her as right inner on the field hockey squad.

CYNTHIA TAYLOR

*Sociology - Social Work
(Aug. '77)*

Says this graduate from Swarthmore, "I'll be sorry to be leaving. I've made so many good friends and had a lot of unusual things happen. On the other hand, I have many exciting things facing me in the future, too. On the whole, I have mixed feelings about it. (I'll say one thing, though - it sure did go fast!) Cynthia was a DJ on WVEC her freshman and sophomore years, and is a veteran of Mr. Weaver's post-office team. She also played JV tennis, but, due to a knee injury, she had to quit during her sophomore year. In September, Cynthia became Mrs. James Royer.

JOSEPHUS G. TAYLOR

English - Religion and Philosophy (Aug. '77)

A New Jersey resident, Joe Taylor transferred to Elizabethtown his sophomore year. Certainly no one could say Joe was "inactive" during his three years here. He has been, throughout, a member of the Student Senate. He served on Academic Council and a committee to prevent misuse of student evaluations of professors. He is a student representative to the English and Religion-and-Philosophy departments, a Writing Lab tutor and a technician in Instructional Services. He also presided over three clubs: the Religion and Philosophy Club, the Supreme Fiction Society and Abraxas (the men's honor society). Joe has been married for two years to Suzanne Taylor; he describes their relationship as "a partnership - we try to give 100% of everything. Our marriage is a constant source of challenge and excitement. Suzy is a great motivator and spiritual prelatess; she's my combined lover, sounding board, critic, my best friend and comforter.

KIMBERLY WINTERS TAYLOR

Business Administration

With Kim Taylor, it's all in the E'town family. Her sister, Kristin ('78), is a business administration major. Her mother attended night courses here, and her husband-since-last-July, Rupert, earned a B.S. in Accounting in 1976. With college and married life conflicting, things aren't easy, but Rupert "has been a big help," especially in taking care of the house. Kim, who worked weekends her senior year at Herhey's Chocolate World, is a veteran cello player (thirteen years) and participated with various student groups, including the College-Community Orchestra. "I am looking forward to graduation ... but I did learn a lot here, about human nature, how to handle social situations - and academically."

SUZANNE WILLIAMS TAYLOR

History - Religion and Philosophy (Aug. '77)

"Student life and married life can be complementary," says Suzy Taylor. "Sharing everything that we discover about the world and ourselves make the world and our love ever-expanding." Suzy is the wife of Joe Taylor - "Joe is a constant source of joy to me, my best friend; he helps me push myself to the best I can be." She was a Student Senator for the Religion-and-Philosophy department and was inducted into Phi Alpha Theta, the history honor society. Graduate work in Near-Eastern studies and archeological museum work are in her future.

THOMAS KARL TEXTER

Business Administration

Tom Texter - formerly a resident of Founders - is a member of the Orchard Co-op. He was raised by his father, a United Methodist minister and his mother, a Coca-cico District school teacher, in Cleona. A graduate of Annville-Cleona High School, Tom was a member of the varsity soccer team for four years, alternating between the position of halfback and fullback.

RICHARD ALLEN THOMAN II

Accounting

"My college years are a period of my life I'll never forget. They were great and not so great - the former much more than the latter." A York native and William Penn High graduate, his father runs a real-estate-and-insurance business, a business Rich plans to work in as part of his career. One of his ambitions is to "travel a lot, first through the U.S. and then overseas." To Rich, "Elizabethtown is a nice place."

VICKI LEE THOMAS

Business Administration

Vicki Thomas is demonstrably a fan of athletics. This Kennett Square senior played on the girls' basketball team for four years, and co-captained the team for 1976-77. She also played on the volleyball, tennis, and soccer intramural teams. As for her major, she concentrated in health care management, and interned at the Masonic Homes her senior year. Vicki was married to Harry Forrey the month of this book's publication (September).

JEFFREY ALLEN TUXILL

Business Administration

To Jeff Tuxill, E-town had "a very beautiful campus." Not only that, but he's "enjoyed his four years here . . . This college has helped me to prepare for the rest of my life. The people I've met - here and in the area - have been very friendly; I hope to be able to keep in touch with them in future years." Jeff, whose father is a construction engineer in Syracuse (Jeff's done some summer construction work, too), once served as co-chairman for a drive within his church to raise money for orphanages in Thailand.

JEFFREY JON ULBRICH

Business Administration

"Graduation has come so quickly that it's frightening," says this Ho-Ho-Kus, N.J., senior. "It's about time, though, to get out and discover a different part of the world - and yourself. It will be challenging to say the least." Born of Iowan parents, Jeff played halfback on the varsity and JV soccer teams during his four years here, and also worked for Instructional Services. He is uncertain about his immediate future, but can say this about college itself: "The total experience has been so beneficial that I encourage most people to consider it."

H. BRENTON UPPERCUE

Music Education (May '78)

A resident of Joppatowne, Md., Brent in a 1975 transfer from Towson State University ("E-town College is a much more 'personal' school with beautiful, warm people"). Here at E-town he's been quite musically inclined; Brent is a member of MENC, the National American Choral Director Association and the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association. On the performing end, Brent sang in the All-County, All-State and All-Nation choirs during 1971 and 1972, and toured Europe with the latter group. More recently he has sung in Concert Choir and Chorale, and did some soloing for the Choral Union. Brent has been working parttime for the A&P, and intends to remain a worker there until his graduation. Among his future plans include marriage to '77 graduate Myla Easter.

AUDREY JEAN WAGNER

*Music Therapy - Music Education
(Dec. '77)*

Audrey Wagner is one of those people who was involved in practically everything in her major. Born in Quarryville and the winner of a "Junior Days" scholarship, Audrey played in the College's orchestra, brass ensemble, and Jazz band, as well as the pit orchestra of E-town musicals. She also sang in Concert Choir and Chorale. Audrey was a soloist with the Concert Band and Chairman of the band staff. In addition, she was chosen to play in the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Band. Her club memberships included MENC, Alpha Mu and Alpha Lambda Delta. Audrey worked three academic years on Alpha Annex's night and weekend answering service; indeed, she lived in an apartment in the Annex, too. She worked in the summers at Camp Swatara (a Church of the Brethren camp). Audrey "would like to spend at least a year in Brethren Volunteer Service."

NANCY ELAINE WALLACE

Social Work

Says the pert Nancy Wallace, "I'll miss the many things I've grown to appreciate about Elizabethtown, but I am looking forward to graduation! I've grown in many respects through my experience here, and am now ready for a new challenge." Nancy, from Martinsville, N.J., did her social work affiliations at Pennhurst State School and Hospital and the rehabilitation center of Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital. Outside of that, she was a member of the Alumni Council's Undergraduate Activities Committee, worked her junior and senior years in the public affairs office, sang in the Concert Choir and portrayed one of Teyve's two youngest daughters in campus theatre's Fiddler on the Roof.

DONALD NEAL WALMER

Forestry

Neal's Father is a vice-president for the Pennsylvania National Insurance Company. His mother was a Penn State student - class of '49 - who majored in nutrition. And Neal Walmer, as a forestry major, is not a four year student here; he will complete his education at Duke University in its 3-2 program with E-town. Neal attained academic distinctions, notably a Dean's Privilege Scholarship and induction into Abraxas. Neal did his forestry internship with the Division of Forest Fire Protection of the state's Department of Environmental Resources. He also worked in his spare time as a member of the Hershey Ambulance Corps.

JEFFREY WALP

Business Administration

JAMES JOHN WALSH III

*Business Administration
(Computer Science)*

Jim Walsh, a native of King of Prussia, Pa., enjoys learning about the computer field. He also likes to play guitar and soccer. "I participated in a soccer league while I was home this summer and fall, and I really had a great time doing it. I think soccer's the greatest sport in the world." Jim came back in spring semester of 1977 to pick up the additional courses he needs to graduate. "I don't know what exactly I'll do after graduation," he commented, "but I'll find something."

BARBARA ANN WARFEL

Medical Secretary

A 1975 Penn Manor graduate, Barbara Warfel decided to be a psychology major at the school across the street, Millersville State. But psychology proved unsatisfactory, and since MSC didn't have a Med-Sec program, she transferred to E-town in January, 1976. A commuter at both MSC and E-town, Barb readily notes the difference: "The classes are much smaller and the professor can get to know you better... You get a mailbox whether or not you are a commuter. And at Millersville, if commuters find out (about college goings-on), they find out; and if they don't - well, better luck next time." Barb is quite pleased with the Med Sec program and thinks the practicum provides good experience for all majors.

PATRICIA ANNE WARREN

Sociology - Anthropology

Pat Warren has "gained a lot by being exposed to various aspects of life, particularly the social and philosophical issues of our society." Who else to thank but the Sociology Department for this exposure? "All the professors and staff are enthusiastic about their subject as well as life in general. They are a positive influence to all exposed to them." The daughter of the president of Surveying Instrument Co. and a 1974 transfer from West Chester State - "Elizabethtown is much smaller, more personal!" - this cum laude graduate is a member of the national sociological honor society Alpha Kappa Delta; she student assisted in the sociology department and also tutored in that subject.

ROGER WAYE

Business Administration

DANIEL L. WEBER

Biology

This Middleburg senior, the son of an M.D. and a registered nurse, was a junior-year transfer from Mount Union College (Pa.). Says Dan: "E-town offers a closer relationship between fellow students; (this college) has a more friendly atmosphere. The courses are easier, too." Among some of Dan's outside pursuits are volunteering for the fire department (he's been at it for five years) and work as an ambulance attendant.

JEAN WEISBECKER

Medical Technology

DAVID MILLER WENTZ

Business Administration

"I enjoyed going to school here at E-town," says Dave Wentz. "I feel the experience has opened my eyes to many exciting and interesting things which I might have otherwise passed by." A Lancasterian, Dave's father is a real-estate appraiser for his own firm, Lancaster County Realty. Dave himself was in the Geology and Marketing Clubs, and made the Dean's list.

M. LAVONNE WHARRAN

Accounting

"It's going to be sad to leave E-town College, what with all of its variety, its enriching cultural atmosphere. But I have so much to look forward to with the basis I acquired here." The valedictorian of her graduation exercises at Everett High School (Cumberland, Md.), Lavonne went to Allegany Community College, where she was vice-president of the student government and salutatorian. She transferred to Elizabethtown with the help of a two-year scholarship; her cumulative average was a perfect 4.0 She was co-president of the Geology Club and an active member of SAM and the Marketing Club.

TULA WHITAKER

Occupational Therapy

RICK LEE WHITE

Communication Arts

"My years at E-town have been great," says Dalmatia's Rick White. "I wish that I could take all the people close to me with me when I leave." Rick, a Brinsler 2-North Resident Assistant was active in nine campus plays, with characterizations ranging from Kolenkhov in You Can't Take It With You to the lovesick Hero of Forum. He was the aged Rabbi in Fiddler on the Roof and was a member of Rep Theatre for his sophomore year; He was a member, also, of Alpha Psi Omega and historian of the group his junior year. Rick worked for the campus radio station for several years and had a summer job with WQIN (Lykens, Pa.). Finally, he was a tenor singer in the Concert Choir. "The college has been good to me. I can only hope it will continue to meet the needs of students who will come after me."

DAVID WILHELM

Accounting

KAREN BITNER WILKINS

English

This Royer 2nd Rowdy once had ambitions of being a medical technician; indeed, she was a med-tech major for three semesters, and assisted in the freshman chemistry lab. "But," she now concedes, "I'm glad I changed to English. Working on The Etownian (as sports editor) has confirmed my idea of pursuing a career in journalism." Karen was on the tennis team through her junior year (she compiled a 17-7 overall record), managed the field hockey team and worked for the athletic department. "I would like to work on a newspaper staff now that I've graduated. I hope to do some free-lance writing, too."

CATHY WILSON

MARLYS ANN WITKOVSKY

Modern Languages

"Learn from yesterday, live for today, hope for tomorrow." This is Marlys' favorite slogan, and a good one, at that. Marlys' father is pastor of the Westminster (Md.) Church of the Brethren; she shared her father's interest in religion by actively participating in the "campus ministry." A trip to Barcelona on the Brethren Colleges Abroad program "greatly widened my horizons, my understanding of my self and the world - and also improved my Spanish!" Once vice-president of Alpha Lambda Delta, Marlys graduated summa cum laude. She was married on the second day of Christmas (1976) to Terry Herahberger, a 1975 E-town graduate in music education. "I'm glad for all that has happened to me these four years, for what it has helped me to be."

H. ANNE WILSON

English (Aug. '77)

Anne Wilson's diverse interest have root in her parents. Her father was a Wharton School graduate who eased into graphic-art design; her mother was a music teacher for eleven years. Anne, a magna cum laude from Hellam, did considerable work for Campus Theatre, working as make-up co-chairman of Fiddler on the Roof and assistant director of the original production of Neither Friend Nor Foe at the Brethren's 1976 Annual Conference in Wichita, Kansas. She served as president of Sigma Lambda Sigma and the Supreme Fiction Society, and played in the Concert Band for four years. Anne is hoping to make teaching her career, and intends to go to graduate school to do so.

Laura Jane Wright

History

This Carlisle senior can lay claim to "an extensive candle collection that includes antiques, homemade and unusual candles. My prides are a handmade beehive made from bee's wax and a handmade "brass" monkey (I also have a Snoopy candle and am currently searching for Woodstock)." A former student of Cedar Crest College, Laura plans to start a tour company after graduation. "Although most of the tours planned are in the U.S. and Canada, I hope eventually to go to Europe, the Far East, and the islands ... so keep an eye out for the Wright Tours - available for charters (student rates included)."

Bradley Yingst

Business Administration

Deborah Ann Yost

Occupational Therapy

Debbie Yost is "anxious to put into practice all that I've learned." If the number of activities she participated in were a valid measure of an education's worth, then indeed Debbie learned a lot. Born in Strasburg, Debbie started her college career as a member of the Cheerleaders. She later went into the Occupational Therapy Club, became a representative from OT to the Student Senate (she was treasurer all three years she was in that group). Volunteer work at the E-town Hospital for Crippled Children and Youth and paid work as a part-time ward at Lancaster Osteopathic Hospital (where her mother works as a nurse) helped round out her OT education. Though Debbie has a lot of "favorite activities," she has found that college took up so much time that she "had minimal time for those, so brief walks to the quarry have dominated my leisure time at school."

Donald Zimmerman

Accounting

Don Zimmerman was born in Princeton, New Jersey, but was raised in Millersville and graduated from the borough's Penn Manor High School. The recipient of an Espenshade grant and a Parish grant, Don (Or Jimmy, whichever you prefer) was a member of the Campus Judicial Board, and also belonged to SAM and the Marketing Club. He was most visible as a wrestler for three of his four years (he didn't wrestle as a sophomore due to an injury). Jimmy lived in Founders A-1 for a while, and moved to D-2 his senior year to assume the responsibilities of being an R.A.

Roger Barton Zimmer

Business Administration

Roger Zimmer is from Dauphin, Pa. A little about his parents: his father is a building contractor and president of Dauphin Homes, Inc.; his mother, a housewife, was born in Virginia. Now a little about Roger. He is more interested in his hobbies than in anything "extra-curricular," he goes "hunting, fishing, and traveling as much as possible; I've already travelled and camped through twenty-nine states and parts of Canada."

PRE-NURSING

CATHY BERGDOLL

The Pre-Nursing Program, recently approved at Elizabethtown, allows those individuals who wish to get their degree in Nursing and also attend E-town to do both. Pre-Nursing Majors spend two years at Elizabethtown and then transfer to Widener College to complete the degree.

KAY-ELLA BLEECHER

Additional majors include: Karen Amritt, John Bendt, Debra Bice, Debra Hartman, Sharon Hess, Barbara Morton, Marsha Over, Carla Rupp, Anne Terefenko, and Joyce Weaver.

We're the only bank you'll ever need.

In your lifetime you'll make some big loans, and some small loans. Your savings account will go up and down like a yo-yo as you struggle to get ahead and you'll write thousands upon thousands of checks.

You'll have enough things going against you - we think you should have a good bank on your side . . . ours.

A Time for Reflection

As a student's thoughts turn toward graduation and the many important decisions that must be made at that time, a feeling of apprehension is often present. Yet whether you decide to further your education or pursue a career immediately, one thought should remain foremost in your mind. Success is linked to hard work and achievement, not luck or a rub of a magic lamp. Opportunities are yours, not just for the asking, but by proving yourself worthy.

ELIZABETHTOWN COLLEGE

OFFICE OF ALUMNI RELATIONS
ALPHA HALL

Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania 17022

Dear Class of 1977:

Preparation is the key ingredient to success in most endeavors. The Elizabethtown College Alumni Association is proud to have been a part of your preparation for a rewarding career. We congratulate you on your supreme accomplishment thus far and hope the foundation built here at Elizabethtown will provide a basis for reaching your professional and vocational goals.

It is our hope that your experiences at Elizabethtown College will stimulate your active involvement in the Alumni Association. Through this organization the College progresses because of your ideas concerning your personal experiences.

The Alumni Association takes this opportunity to wish you great success as you begin your professional career. We look forward to meeting you and working together with you to maintain and enhance the image of Elizabethtown College.

Sincerely,
